BOLD ROBBER SHOT TRAILED IN BLOOD BUT ELUDES POLICE

County Farm Agent Sets
Up in Bed and Waits
for Intruder.

Calmly sitting up in bed and waiting for the intruder to come into his room, J. B. Hill, who lives at Twelfth and Mississippi, this morning fired two shots at a bold burglar when he appeared in the door of Mr. Hill's bedroom. The burglar made his escape. A trail of blood was found this morning and was followed south as far as Seventeenth street, where it was lost.

Mr. Hill, who is county agricultural agent for Pontotoc county, heard the night prowler when he opened the back door and entered the house. It was about 4 o'clock this morning. At first he paid no attention to the sounds, thinking it was only a cat. A moment later, however, he heard someone ransacking the next room, and reached for his gun, sitting up in bed and waiting for the uninvited visitor to show himself in the doorway.

The room was in darkness, and Mr. Hill could see but the outline of the man's form. He opened fire, and at the second shot the burglar turned and ran.

Mr. Hill could not distinguish in the darkness whether the man was white or black.

The police were notified, and the bloody tracks were followed this morning, only to be lost at Seventeenth street.

Two dollars in change and a fountain pen were the only things taken by the thief.

Vags on Move.
The anti-crime crusades being conducted in the larger cities has caused a movement of vagrants about the country. The big cities of the east are in a grip of terror from an alarming spread of crime. Tulsa and Muskogee are making a supreme effort to cast off the unsavory element. When the police net begins to tighten, the vag seeks other pastures.

This would have the effect of increasing the number of vagrants in other places; however, the police report but few in Ada.

The Glines-Rattell store on Main street was entered and robbed Friday night. The attempted burglary at the Hill home this morning calls attention to the fact that the robbers operating in Ada are not confining themselves to the business places.

"I believe every resident should take every precaution against burglars," Mayor Kitchens said this morning. "If it becomes known that a warm reception awaits them, there will not be many with temerity enough to want to face a six-shooter."

TULSA POLICE SHOOT TO KILL BANDITS

(By the Associated Press.)
TULSA, Jan. 4.—Alarmed at the way gunmen have been out shooting members of the police force, chief of police A. Gustafson announced a crew of workmen would begin work on a shooting gallery in the police station basement, at which the men will be instructed in the use of firearms.

"We intend to meet fire with fire," the chief of police said. "Every officer on the force will be instructed in the use of firearms."

HOLD TAXI DRIVER ON MURDER CHARGE

TULSA, Jan. 4.—B. G. Larkins was considerably surprised when he was arraigned before County Judge Williams on the charge of murder in connection with the killing of S. Frank Duke, at midnight December 20. He is a taxicab driver.

He pleaded not guilty and was held without bail by the magistrate. His preliminary was set for Jan. 10, when A. C. Mullins who admits firing the shot that killed Duke, alleging that he thought Duke was a highjacker, will also have his hearing on first degree murder charge.

Both men have pleaded not guilty to murder. Larkins was chauffeur in the car that Mullins, Mrs. Pauline Duke and Mrs. Ira Dalton were riding on the night that Duke chased them in another car and was fatally shot by Mullins.

Fight Against Tax on Booze is Made in Court

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—There is no competition in the whisky business and the special 50-cent tax assessed against each gallon of whisky drawn from a bonded warehouse in Kentucky is not confiscatory, Charles F. Dawson, attorney general of Kentucky, argued today before the United States supreme court in an effort to obtain vacation of an injunction forbidding collection of the tax. The injunction was granted by the United States court of eastern district of Kentucky, which held that the law violated the state and federal constitutions in that it provided no adequate remedy at law and that it was confiscatory.

The law provided that the funds derived from the tax should be used to build roads. More than $2,000,000 assessed during the period since the law was passed, are at stake.

Two suits were involved in today's argument. In one of the state and the Louisville Public Warehouse company appealed from an injunction granted by the J. & A. Freiburg company of Cincinnati and in the other state appealed from a similar injunction granted to the Kentucky distilleries and warehouse company. The Freiburg company attempted to remove its whisky to Massachusetts for storage without paying the tax. The warehouse company refused to release it and the suit resulted.

Attorney General Dawson contesting allegations that the law is confiscatory and thus violates the Fourteenth Amendment, cited affidavits of distillers to the effect that from $1 to $1.25 a gallon and without taxes paid, while distillers in other states were getting $1.50 to $1.75 a gallon. This he held, showed that there was no real competition in the business and that the 50-cent tax would not put Kentucky distillers at a disadvantage since they would not be compelled to increase their price above that charged by distillers in other states.

He also cited examples to show that a sale price of $19.50 a three gallon case for whisky, all taxes paid, allowed distillers a big profit.

8TH LEGISLATURE OPENS SESSION

Both Houses Organize, and Hear Message of Gov.
Robertson.

(By the Associated Press.)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 4.—It took little more than an hour for the Eighth Oklahoma legislature to perfect its organization after convening at the state capitol here shortly after noon today.

After roll call and examination of credentials, the house unanimously selected George B. Schwabe, republican of Nowata, as speaker. He was nominated by Roy V. Hary of Major county. Edwin Dabney, democrat, was nominated by Dan F. Harrison of Calvin.

In the senate where there is a strong republican minority, a fight developed over the selection of a president pro tempore. T. C. Simpson, democrat, of Thomas, was named over W. R. Wallace, democrat, of Pauls Valley. The vote was twenty-five to nineteen. Wallace had announced his intention of securing republican support and the republican members of the senate lined up behind him.

The house marked time while the senate organized and at 1:30 recessed for an hour.

After naming permanent committees and perfecting all organizations, the senate recessed until 2:30, and informed the governor it was ready for business. The governor replied that he was ready to meet both houses in joint session.

Following the recess both branches of the legislature planned to meet in their respective chambers and then convene in joint session to canvass the returns of the November election. Following this procedure the legislature heard the governor's message.

MAN TO BE TRIED FOR OLD CRIMES

Member of the Old Martin
Gang Faces Court This Month.

(By the Associated Press.)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 4.—Echoes of territorial days will be heard in federal court here during the January term, when the case of Clarence Simmons, alleged to have been a member of the Martin gang of bank robbers, comes to trial.

Simmons is to be tried on charges of assault on a former United States deputy marshal and for horse theft.

It is alleged that Simmons committed the offenses in 1903, at a time when Wiley Haynes, then a deputy marshal, was wounded in a running fight with Simmons and the two Martin brothers, alleged to have been the leaders of the Martin gang of territorial days. Both the Martin boys were killed but it is said Simmons escaped. Simmons was arrested last year in Florida.

Another case of state interest on the docket is that of S. M. Mcowan who will be tried on a charge of embezzlement of government funds. He formerly was superintendent of the Cherokee Indian school. The case is set for hearing January 6.

About 150 criminal cases are scheduled to be heard during the January term, according to Herbert M. Peck, United States district attorney. No civil cases appear on the docket, owing to the unusually heavy criminal docket, he explained. About two-thirds of the cases docketed deal with liquor and narcotic charges, according to Peck.

Relatives Believe That War Hero Did Not Kill Self, But Was Slain

MOMENCE, Ill., Jan. 3.—(Special)—Relatives and friends of Lieut. Pat O'Brien, hero-aviator, are not satisfied with the verdict of suicide rendered by the coroner's jury in Los Angeles where he was supposed to have shot himself.

Mrs. Clara Clegg, his sister, and his brother have begun an investigation in which they will be assisted by all his friends. They make these charges:

That Lieutenant O'Brien was threatened with death by a woman on four separate occasions.

That Virgil Moore, an aviator friend of O'Brien, once wrested a pistol from this woman when she was trying to kill O'Brien.

That O'Brien did not write the "death note" found near his body, but that it was written by his slayer.

That there were no powder marks around the wound, as there must have been if O'Brien himself fired the shot at close range from a heavy army pistol.

That no inquest was held, a physician at the hotel saying it was not necessary.

That his personal possessions had all disappeared.

To Reopen the Inquiry.
Efforts will be made to reopen the inquiry and the name of the supposed woman will be given the authorities at that time.

Dispatches from Los Angeles at the time of the shooting of O'Brien were quite hazy as to details of the tragedy. Little information, apparently, was given out by the police.

The shock of O'Brien's death and the new theory advanced have resulted in his mother suffering a been "found dead in a room in a downtown hotel." Shortly afterward

OIL STRIKE ON FARM NEAR ADA REPORTED HERE

Drillers Are Said To Have Found Positive Oil
Indications.

A report reached Ada this morning to the effect that a twenty-six foot oil sand had been drilled thru at the Carter-Nance-LaSelle well Monday night and a good showing of gas and oil found. Neither of the owners of the well are in Ada at this time and the report could not be confirmed by the time the Evening News goes to press.

The Carter-Nance-LaSelle well is located in 16-4-5, eight miles northwest of Ada on the Whipple farm. The oil sand was reached two weeks ago at a depth of approximately 1175 feet. The drilling in of the well was delayed two weeks while the drillers fished for a loose joint of casing at the bottom of the hole.

If this unconfirmed report is true increased activities are expected to result in the field northwest of Ada, where oil men have long been of the opinion that a giant pool of oil exists. The Carter-Nance-LaSelle syndicate owns considerable acreage contiguous to the location of their well, and they will drill other wells if oil is found in paying quantities.

Farm Advisers Here

T. A. Milstead and R. W. Shelton both connected with the extension department of the A. & M. college at Stillwater, reached Ada Monday night and will go to Center tonight to meet with the farmers of that community and discuss farm situations.

ADA BANKS HANDLING BIG VOLUME OF LOANS

Farmers from all parts of Pontotoc county crowded the county capitol yesterday winding up their 1920 accounts with Ada stores, and attending to their banking affairs.

A volume of more than a half million dollars in loans is reported by the five banks for yesterday. The farmers are renewing their obligations and preparing for the next crops. Some are wiping out the old debts, but the majority are being carried over by the banks.

Loans among the farmers transacted this week will run over the million mark, it is estimated. The banks are seeing to it that the wheels of commerce are kept turning, and instead of closing out many who met heavy losses on their last crops, they are helping them to meet their trying situations.

Ada and Francis Schools In Basketball League

The Normal, Ada High school, Ada Business college and the Francis high school have organized a basketball league with M. W. Clary of the Normal, president. This league has been organized for the purpose of giving the people of Ada a better chance to see more and better basketball, to promote the spirit of clean athletics and good fellowship between the teams and to better acquaint the different institutions with each other.

The coaches of the above named institutions have been working out the plans by which the league will be governed and have almost completed all the work of organization. There are only a few preliminary plans to be worked out. These will be finished at the meeting of the coaches of the schools at the Normal today.

All the games that come under the authority of the league will be played in the Normal gym and the first game will be played next Friday night if the present plan is not altered.

The league will be divided into two classes, A and B, respectively, thus giving each institution two teams. The winner in each class will be awarded a trophy which is being planned now. These trophies will become the property of the winning schools after they have won two consecutive games.

The rules of the league do not forbid any player from playing in outside games, so long as it does not conflict with the league schedule. This will give the teams an opportunity to play other schools not in the league.

The following men compose the committee on rules and regulations for the league: Whipple of the high school, Norris of the Normal and Newcomb of the business college.

The committee on working out the schedule is composed of the following: Cox of the high school, Young of Francis high school, Newcomb of the business college and Clary of the normal. The schedule will appear later a tentative schedule having been already worked out under which the game Friday night will be played.

YOUNG BANDITS HOLD UP SUBWAY

New York Outlaws Seek a New Field to Conquer.

(By the Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—New York bandits apparently seeking new fields to conquer today transferred their activities underground. Two unmasked youths walked into the subway station at Seventh avenue and Fifty-fifth street after midnight, pointed their revolvers at the ticket agent, Mrs. Ada Hoover, who promptly fainted, and scooped up $71 in change. When she recovered the men forced her to open the door of the ticket booth while they rifled the money drawer.

Two passengers, who came down the steps for a train, a few minutes later, were held up and relieved of their money and jewelry. After warning the men to make no outcry, the youths calmly walked to the street and sauntered leisurely past a policeman.

Dr. H. Barnes, dentist, has changed the location of his dental parlors from the Norris-Haney building to suite three, Shaw building. The change was made Saturday afternoon and the doctor already has his new offices in ship shape.

Dr. Barnes has a large and growing patronage in the city and county, and he asks the News to tell his friends that hereafter he will be found at the new location better prepared than ever to render expert dental service.

FARMERS OPPOSE GRAIN GAMBLING

Main Grievance Is Drop of Prices at Harvest
Times.

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The hedging system long followed in the grain trade was opposed today by representatives of farmer organizations, who appeared at the first of a series of extended hearings by the house agriculture committee on bills designed to put a heavy tax on strictly speculative dealing.

There was no evidence, however, to indicate that the organization wanted the government to abolish grain exchanges and while some witnesses declared present conditions "were bad" they were unable to offer offhand substitute plans which might afford greater protection to the grower.

It was stated that representatives of the Chicago board of trade would present their side of the case next week, or later after the farmers had been heard.

C. H. Hyde of the Oklahoma farmers' union, declared farmers of the southwest opposed future speculative trading as a whole.

"The buying of futures may be necessary as an insurance feature," he said, "but we want to see a plan devised by which insurance will not be necessary."

Mr. Hyde said the main grievance of farmers was that they were forced to sell crops right after harvest when the price tendency was downward and that the benefit was reaped by speculators who bought at the low prices.

ADA POLICE COURT DOES 'FINE' BUSINESS FOR 1920

For the past year the police court has collected a total of $5,270.25 from 492 persons, making one of the biggest years of business. This amount compared with the money taken in last year shows about an average of money but a depreciation of crime.

Most of the money taken in was from minor cases, such as drunkenness, speeding, gambling and other of the lesser charges. The greatest number of fines ranged from $3.75 to $24.75 and shows a great variation.

Then there are many cases which have been appealed, some were served out in jail, others have been let over or disposed of in some other manner and will not be counted in the year's business. The 492 persons mentioned above are those who have paid fines or parts of fines and does not include all the names on the record.

The following is a list of the money as taken in by months and

REDS TO SPREAD REIGN OF TERROR THROUGH EUROPE

They Want To Keep Other Nations in Hot Water to Strengthen Soviet.

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—A new policy of terror abroad, especially in nearby countries, has been decided upon by the Russian soviet, according to official advice from Moscow received by the government today.

Nikolai Lenin is quoted by the advices as saying in a proclamation to the commune committees of Europe that "it is absolutely indispensable to keep the bourgeois enemy busy with international trouble, in order that they cannot injure soviet Russia."

"Great strikes should be organized throughout the world," this version of the proclamation says, "and agitation for some commercial relations with Russia should be increased. In order to fight famine and attack capitalism solidly throughout the universe these things should be done."

Lenin is quoted as saying further that other nations plan to fight soviet Russia by the use of spies seeking to enter Russia with the apparent purpose of disorganizing revolts against the soviet.

MUSKOGEE, Jan. 4.—Sam A. Maxwell, former president of the defunct Citizens State bank of Coalgate, now under $25,000 bond on charges growing out of the failure of that institution, today was made a defendant in a bankruptcy suit filed in the United States district court by Nancy Flannigan, who says she deposited $2,218 with Maxwell individually, and Harry McMeican and John Hardie, Coalgate mechanics, who filed a claim for $929 for repairing the bank building.

OPPOSE RAISING BARS AGAINST IMMIGRANTS

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Vigorous opposition to any legislation restricting immigration will be presented today to the senate immigration committee by Louis Marshall of New York, representing the American Jewish committee. He named a number of distinguished Americans who "sprang from alien ancestry" and said "many of the boys who carried the flag through the Argonne were immigrants."

"President Wilson's mother was an immigrant," he added. "Charles Evans Hughes' father and mother both were immigrants."

The committee decided today to conclude hearings next week to begin preparation for a presentation to the senate.

The committee will recess until Monday when witnesses from the Pacific coast states will be heard.

Efforts will be made to reopen the inquiry and the name of the supposed woman will be given the authorities at that time.

Dispatches from Los Angeles at the time of the shooting of O'Brien were quite hazy as to details of the tragedy. Little information, apparently, was given out by the police.

The shock of O'Brien's death and the new theory advanced have resulted in his mother suffering, it is said, from a nervous breakdown. She has been "found" dead in a room in a downtown hotel. Shortly afterward

OIL STRIKE ON FARM NEAR ADA REPORTED HERE

Drillers Are Said To Have Found Positive Oil Indications.

A report reached Ada this morning to the effect that a twenty-six foot oil sand had been drilled thru at the Carter-Nance-Laselle well Monday night and a good showing of gas and oil found. Neither of the owners of the well are in Ada at this time and the report could not be confirmed by the time the Evening News goes to press.

The Carter-Nance-Laselle well is located in 16-4-5, eight miles northwest of Ada on the Whipple farm. The oil sand was reached two weeks ago at a depth of approximately 175 feet. The drilling in of the well was delayed two weeks while the drillers fished for a loose joint of casing at the bottom of the hole.

If this unconfirmed report is true increased activities are expected to result in the field northwest of Ada, where oil men have long been of the opinion that a giant pool of oil exists.

The Carter-Nance-Laselle syndicate owns considerable acreage contiguous to the location of their well, and they will drill other wells if oil is found in paying quantities.

Farm Advisers Here
T. A. Miltz and R. W. Shelton both connected with the extension department of the A. & M. college at Stillwater, reached Ada Monday night and will go to Carter tonight to meet with the farmers of that community and discuss farm situations.

ADA BANKS HANDLING BIG VOLUME OF LOANS

Farmers from all parts of Pontotoc county crowded the county capital yesterday winding up their 1920 accounts with Ada stores, and attending to their banking affairs.

A volume of more than a half million dollars in loans is reported by the five banks for yesterday. The farmers are renewing their obligations and preparing for the next crops. Some are wiping out old debts, but the majority are being carried over by the banks.

Loans among the farmers transacted this week will run over the million mark, it is estimated. The banks are seeing to it that the wheels of commerce are kept turning, and instead of closing out many who met heavy losses on their last crops, they are helping them to meet their trying situations.

Walter Pulitzer says, "Arguing with a woman is like going into a shower bath with an umbrella. What good will it do you?"

Ada and Francis Schools In Basketball League

The Normal, Ada High school, Ada Business college and the Francis high school have organized a basketball league with M. W. Clary of the Normal, president. This league has been organized for the purpose of giving the people of Ada a better chance to see more and better basketball, to promote the spirit of clean athletics and good fellowship between the teams and to better acquaint the different institutions with each other.

The coaches of the above named institutions have been working out the plans by which the league will be governed and have almost completed all the work of organization. There are only a few preliminary plans to be worked out. These will be finished at the meeting of the coaches of the schools at the Normal today.

All the games that come under the authority of the league will be played in the Normal gym and the first game will be played next Friday night if the present plan is not altered.

The league will be divided into two classes, A and B, respectively, thus giving each institution two teams. The winner in each class will be awarded a trophy which is being planned now. These trophies will become the property of the winning schools after they have won two consecutive games.

The rules of the league do not forbid any player from playing in outside games, so long as it does not conflict with the league schedule. This will give the teams an opportunity to play other schools not in the league.

The following men compose the committee on rules and regulations for the league: Whipple of the high school, Norris of the Normal and Newcomb of the business college.

The committee on working out the schedule is composed of the following: Cox of the high school, Young of Francis high school, Newcomb of the normal, The schedule will appear later a tentative schedule having been already worked out under which the game Friday night will be played.

YOUNG BANDITS HOLD UP SUBWAY

New York Outlaws Seek a New Field to Conquer.

(By the Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—New York bandits apparently seeking new fields to conquer today transferred their activities underground. Two unmasked youths walked into the subway station at Seventh avenue and Fifty-fifth street after midnight and pointed their revolvers at the ticket agent, Mrs. Ada Hoover, who promptly fainted, and scooped up $71 in change. When she recovered the men forced her to open the door of the ticket booth while they held the money drawer. Two passengers, who came down the steps for a train, a few minutes later, were held up and relieved of their money and jewelry. After warning the men to make to outcry, the youths calmly walked to the street and sauntered leisurely past a policeman.

FARMERS OPPOSE GRAIN GAMBLING

Main Grievance Is Drop of Prices at Harvest Times.

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The hedging system long followed in the grain trade was opposed today by representatives of farmer organizations, who appeared at the first of a series of extended hearings by the house agriculture committee on a bill designed to put a heavy tax on strictly speculative dealing.

There was no evidence, however, to indicate that the organization wanted the government to abolish grain exchanges and while some witnesses declared present conditions "were bad" they were unable to offer official substitute plans which might afford greater protection to the grower.

It was stated that representatives of the Chicago board of trade would present their side of the case next week, or later after the farmers had been heard.

C. H. Hyde of the Oklahoma farmers' union, declared farmers of the southwest opposed future speculative trading as a whole.

"The buying of futures may be necessary as an insurance feature," he said, "but we want to see a plan devised by which insurance will not be necessary."

Mr. Hyde said the main grievance of farmers was that they were forced to sell crops right after harvest when the price tendency was downward and that the benefit was reaped by speculators who bought at the low prices.

ADA POLICE COURT DOES 'FINE' BUSINESS FOR 1920

For the past year the police court has collected a total of $5,370.25 from 492 persons, making one of the busiest years of business. This amount compared with the money taken in last year shows about an average of money but a depreciation of crime.

Most of the money taken in was from minor cases, such as drunkenness, speeding, gambling and other of the lesser charges. The greatest number of fines ranged from $8.75 to $24.75 and shows a great variation.

Then there are many cases which have been appealed, some were served out in jail, others have been let over or disposed of in some other manner and will not be counted in the year's business. The 492 persons mentioned above are those who have paid fines or parts of fines and does not include all the names on the record.

The following is a list of the money as taken in by months and

REDS TO SPREAD REIGN OF TERROR THROUGH EUROPE

They Want To Keep Other Nations in Hot Water to Strengthen Soviet.

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—A new policy of terror abroad, especially in nearby countries, has been decided upon by the Russian soviet, according to official advice from Moscow received by the government today.

Nikolai Lenin is quoted by the soviet as saying in a proclamation to the commune committees of Europe that "it is absolutely indispensable to keep the bourgeois enemy busy with international trouble, in order that they cannot injure soviet Russia."

"Great strikes should be organized throughout the world," this version of the proclamation says, "and agitation for some commercial relations with Russia should be increased. In order to fight famine and attack capitalism solidly throughout the universe these things should be done."

Lenin is quoted as saying further that other nations plan to fight soviet Russia by the use of spies seeking to enter Russia with the apparent purpose of disorganizing revolts against the soviet.

HEAD OF DEFUNCT BANK IS SUED FOR DEPOSIT

OPPOSE RAISING BARS AGAINST IMMIGRANTS

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Vigorous opposition to any legislation restricting immigration will be presented today to the senate immigration committee by Louis Marshall of New York, representing the American Jewish committee. He named a number of distinguished Americans who "sprang from alien ancestry" and said "many of the boys who carried the flag through the Argonne were immigrants."

"President Wilson's mother was an immigrant," he added. "Charles Evans Hughes' father and mother both were immigrants."

The committee decided today to conclude hearings next week to begin preparation for a presentation to the senate.

The committee will recess until Monday when witnesses from the Pacific coast states will be heard.

Stored Foods

At certain seasons of the year, nature mothers us in generous lavishness; at other seasons she treats us as outcasts.

One great service rendered by Swift & Company to the consumer is in taking some of the surplus of nature's plenty and storing it against the season of non-production. This is a service based upon sound common sense and meets a definite economic need.

This enables you to obtain all the year round some foods which otherwise would be so abundant in certain months that the entire supply could not be used, and so scarce at other times that prices would be prohibitive.

Swift & Company has equipped its plants and branch houses with refrigerating plants, and has a sufficient number of refrigerator cars to carry a supply of meat foods to its customers. Space in public cold storage warehouses also is used by us to carry perishables until they are needed.

We store only enough meat, butter, poultry, eggs, and cheese to supply our customers during the period of scarcity and not to speculate on rising prices. Our storage profits during the last eight years have averaged about one cent a dozen on eggs, and less than a cent a pound on butter and poultry.

Storage of food is a world necessity and we regard our part in this as an important factor in our service in supplying the nation with wholesome food.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

GET THE LISTENING HABIT

It is recounted that on occasion a certain wise man was asked the first rule of getting along in the world of people. The answer came back "be a good listener."

In these days of modern newspapers reading corresponds to listening. In the news columns are the printed views and opinions of the foremost men and women of our day—leaders in thought and action. To be well informed, you read what they have to say, just as you would listen if they were speaking to you.

In the advertising columns, you have the opportunity to "listen" to messages that are even closer and more vital to your everyday life. Your own townspeople, as well as men and women from all over the world are telling you their stories. For your benefit.

There's an endless array of articles from which you can choose. The choice is simple if you're a good listener—the more you listen the more you know and the better able to buy.

*So get the listening habit.
Read the advertisements.*

What's Your First Name?

I know your last name---it's the same as mine. And our first names begin alike, but the ending, that's where the difference may show up.

Consumer is your last name
—mine, too.

My first name is Careful, but one branch of the family answers to Careless. Where do you come in? If you are not sure, then here is a sure test.

Careless Consumer says advertising is all "bunk" that it's a waste of time to read it, a waste of thought to believe it, and a waste of money to buy things advertised.

Careful Consumer, that's me, says time spent reading advertisements is well invested, that here you can get news of the latest and best things made, word as to where to get them, what they cost, what they will do; and that you have the pick of the whole market of the whole country, and the pick of the particular kind, shape, size and color that best suits your taste and fits your purse.

If you do not know who you are, try reading advertisements for awhile. Then you will know, for you, too, will be Careful Consumer.

The Best of The Bargain

When you buy advertised goods you are getting the best of the bargain. Only good goods, fairly priced, can stand the strain of advertising.

You can't imagine a merchant or manufacturer advertising a lot of articles that are poor in quality, poor in make, and that will not give reasonable wear. Such goods can't stand the strain of advertising. The business can't stand the strain of public condemnation.

When a merchant signs his name to a statement he is careful of what he says. When the whole reputation of his business is at stake, he is doubly careful. When that statement is being sent out to all the people, so that anything in it that is not true will be known to all of his employees and most of his friends; then you may be sure he is ten times doubly careful.

So, when you buy advertised goods you get the best of the bargain, because they must be advertised.

That is why it pays you to read advertisements, and to buy the goods advertised. Advertising protects you. Read it and get the best of the bargain.

The Olden Knights Wore Shields

with certain family devices painted thereon. To protect the fair name of these escutcheons, they fought hard and well and dealt squarely and openly.

Knives without device lived fairly or unfairly as their humor suited. They had no names to protect. Today the knights of industry have devices — the advertised trademarks of their products. It is even more necessary for them to preserve a bright and spotless trademark than it was for an olden knight to keep his shield clean and fair.

Advertising focuses a million search lights on a trademark. If it be worthy, it immediately leaps into confidence and popularity. If it be unworthy it fails. Buy advertised products. Read the advertisements to choose what you will buy. You can be certain that every consistently advertised product is good.

The test of a million search lights has proved it. The name of the manufacturer guarantees it. The trademark is your warrant of true quality.

Read the advertisements. Buy advertised products.

Read the Advertisements and go to the stores with your mind made up.

Sit in your easy-chair and read the advertisements—leisurely. Find out what the merchants have to offer. Make up a list of the things you want to look at or buy.

This will save hours of standing around the stores, asking questions of the clerks — maybe getting what you want and maybe not.

The advertisements are a panorama of dealer's shelves passed before your eye, with the name of the article and its price plainly stated.

If you're in a hurry, make up your order from the advertisements and have it delivered, or at least wrapped up so you can get it without waste of time.

That is easier than running your legs off trying to get this or that article of merchandise.

Even though you "love to shop," the advertisements will save you a great amount of time — and money.

D'ANNUNZIO.

Gabriele d'Annunzio, the most fascinating figure of the age, takes his place with Venizelos and others, not exactly in the down-and-out club, but at any odds in the association of those who have lost the realization of great dreams.

D'Annunzio either will pass into obscurity, or will compose his masterpiece of poetry. The past five years of aviation, warfare and revolution have either robbed him of his ability of exquisite versification, or have refined his former style so that greater things are possible.

It is as the poet D'Annunzio will live in the world's memory. Readers of a century hence, absorbing his "Elegia Romance" or perhaps the greater poem that he may now produce, will see his somewhat violent political period merely as an interesting incident, along with his threat of a dozen years ago to write one more poem and then hurl himself into Vesuvius.

One who has read much of D'Annunzio's rather erotic verse finds it easy to imagine that the poet conducted his revolution more for the sensations he might find in the experience than through a really sincere desire to annex Fiume; just as he probably undertook flying and became a noted war ace more for the thrilling novelty than because of intense patriotism. D'Annunzio is an artist, and one of the firmest believers that are belongs to no country and no age, but to the whole planet and to all the ages.

The real name of D'Annunzio is Rapagnetta. His life has been a fairy story. He was born aboard a yacht in the Adriatic, and at 14 he published a collection of lyrics which, despite puerilities, stamped him as a poet of undoubted merit. In following years he produced a vast amount of poetry, but practically all of it was disfigured by sensuality.

D'Annunzio's recent experiences may have made him capable of producing powerful rather than delicate and erotic verse.

The world hopes for this improvement, for D'Annunzio, although a mighty warrior and a potent politician, is a greater poet, and it is as a poet that he must live or die in the memory of posterity.

IMMIGRATION.

More than 3,000 immigrants are reaching Ellis Island daily. More than 1,000,000 will be the official count for the fiscal year of 1920-21. More than 10,000,000 are now waiting in various parts of the old world to swarm to the United States as soon as they obtain transportation.

If we were willing to admit the 10,000,000, the steamship companies could not convey them short of three or four years if they all united in the endeavor and did nothing else, so the danger of such a swarm coming this way is not so imminent as might appear at the first reading of immigration statistics.

But 3,000 per day is enough to awaken this country to the emergency. Thoughtful persons are asking if it is safe for several reasons to admit this number from all quarters of Europe and slices of Asia. It should be kept in mind that large unemployment exists in the United States now, with little possibility that it will lessen during the winter months.

Congress is now taking up the matter of temporary action respecting immigration. Two forces are at work: one looking upon immigration as the vital problem of the age, which requires careful study from several angles, its bearing on the American people, its political and economical effect not for today but for tomorrow; the other inclined to look on the question as one largely of labor supply and demand.

Both factors want good immigrants—the kind that are needed in Oklahoma, for instance, for the cultivation of lands. The question is how to secure only the good immigrant.

"Quite the most important thing in the whole problem of immigration," says Frederick A. Wallis, commissioner of immigration at the port of New York, "is the matter of distribution. At the present time the greatest number of these people are headed toward the cities—where they are not needed and not wanted. Some of them find their way to the farms, where they are greatly needed; but the great majority flock to the cities, which is particularly undesirable in this period of readjustment because of food and housing conditions. I have been called upon within the last few days by officials of the cities of Detroit, Buffalo and Akron, who have importuned us to stop sending the immigrants to their cities, and to induce them to go to the farms. There are thousands of people out of work in those cities today, because of the slowing down of many of the factories that were occupied in supplying untold quantities of war material.

"These added thousands of newcomers only make conditions worse. They cannot find work. They are not producers, and they remain in the cities eating up the food that is scarce enough at present. I have been told by the vice-president of one of our greatest western railroads that in the Dakotas next year the harvest out there will be less than 60 percent of what it was this year—because they cannot get sufficient labor on the farms. Proper distribution of the immigrants, if this could be brought about by legislation, would circumvent this threatening situation. It would send thousands to the farms, thus dealing one of the most effective blows to the high cost of living. It seems to me that much could be done in encouraging these people to take up small bits of ground and work them. This would be productive. Take the west, with its millions of acres of land. I think the newcomers should be encouraged to settle out there and raise corn, wheat, rye, oats, and livestock and I think the government ought to help them out."

Retail merchants especially and all business men generally of the state are tremendously agitated over the passage of a law that will make it possible to punish men who wilfully and continuously issue bad checks. Under the present law if a man has an account in a bank, though only a few cents, he cannot successfully be punished for drawing checks against such account but which are sure to come back marked "insufficient funds." Merchants of the state are demanding of this legislature, not the passage of a drastic law which would work a hardship upon those who have no intention of committing a fraud, but they do want a law that will provide punishment for the professional bad check artist. Representatives from this section of the state are urged to take an active interest in the passage of such legislation.

County School Notes

Hart District.
The school in the Hart district is being taught by Mrs. Lamb and Mrs. Bealer. They had a community Christmas tree at the school. Every body, regardless of conditions, received a present. All report a grand success and very enjoyable time.

Landhorn School.
Landhorn school, which is a part of the Vanoss consolidated school, is in good condition. Attendance is good and the department of the student body is fine. Miss Ruby Andrews of the East Central State normal is the teacher.

Round Top School.
Attendance at Round Top is small, as a great number of the students are picking cotton. The interest and work of the school is good. James Ragland is the teacher.

Jones Chapel.
The Jones Chapel school is in very fine condition. Attendance is good and good work is being done by all the pupils. The school room is very attractive. Miss Lola Ekins is the teacher.

Lula School.
We have just finished one month of school, with a gratifying increase in enrollment, since the Christmas holidays. We have organized a boys' and girls' basket ball teams, two of each and are working hard to get in shape for some games with neighboring schools.

On Wednesday, before dismissing for Christmas, our school had the pleasure of a splendid talk by Rev. R. R. L. Ford, who also remained with us throughout the day, passing from room to room. He passed some nice compliments on our work.

In the afternoon, we assembled together for the purpose of making candy, from ingredients furnished by teachers and pupils. The day was equally enjoyed by all.

The seventh and eighth grade pupils are just now very enthusiastic over the work in vitallized agriculture and it is not an uncommon sight to see them all assembled round a rope machine or some other project.

During the past month we have enjoyed having as visitors Mr. J. H. Kaykendall, Mrs. Kaykendall, Mrs. J. N. Davis and Mrs. Ed Smith.

We regret very much the loss of one of our high school pupils, Miss Bernice White, who goes with her parents to Vanoss, where she will enter school. Our loss is their gain and we wish Bernice much success in her school work there.

The fifth and sixth grades are quite interested in some special hand work and have contributed some attractive, as well as useful, articles to the school.

The primary grades are also doing some excellent work in drawing and paper cutting, and have some good specimens on exhibit.

HOUSE TO HOUSE MOONSHINER IN TOILS OF LAW

(By the Associated Press.)

MUSKOGEE, Jan. 4. — W. F. Wells of Stigler was held to the United States grand jury here today charged with "moonshipping." According to Jim Dowell, enforcement officer who arrested Wells, the defendant had been in the habit of riding through Haskell county on a horse with a copper worm and a boiler, converting mash into whiskey when he stopped from house to house.

LAUNCH BIG DRIVE FOR MOONSHINERS

MUSKOGEE, Jan. 3. — Acting under orders of "shoot to kill," if necessary, federal enforcement officers, operating in conjunction with deputies of the United States marshal's office and the city and county authorities will this week begin an organized drive against all violators of the prohibition laws.

With the arrival in Muskogee of R. D. Foster, enforcement agent, who will make his headquarters here plans for the general "clean-up" of eastern Oklahoma are getting underway.

Relentless Drive.
The crusade will be as thorough as it will be relentless. Efforts will by no means be confined to the larger stills operating in the wooded hills, but kitchen distilleries, backyards, "rideouts," "hip pocket men" and "blind bars" will also be made to feel the effects of the merciless drive. Even the sale of wood alcohol is to be placed under more careful supervision.

The "shoot to kill" order which was issued in the Oklahoma district a few days ago was made necessary, according to C. C. Lydick, assistant district attorney, because of the murders of several of the best prohibition officers of the state at the hands of moonshiners and illicit liquor traffickers.

Herron an "Example."
Federal authorities here yesterday echoed the sentiments of M. C. Binlon, chief enforcement officer of the state who declared that there are more stills in Oklahoma than the square mile than any other states in the union.

The first to feel the effect of the new determination to rid this section of the state of the liquor men is R. T. Herron, charged with maintaining a still in a false basement of his home at 1204 Jefferson street. Herron, which arraigned before United States Commissioner R. M. Mount castle yesterday plead not guilty and was bound over to the federal grand jury. Requirements for bond were made so exacting that it was practically impossible for him to make it and Herron was taken to jail.

MUSKOGEE MAY GET MINERS' BUILDING

(By the Associated Press.)

MUSKOGEE, Jan. 4. — Fort Smith's lead over Muskogee, as the location for a permanent headquarters building for the United Mine Workers of District No. 21, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, had been reduced to 136 this morning, tellers for the miners announced. The vote from seventy-seven out of 126 locals in the district has been counted.

LEATHER COATS ARE COMFY FOR WINTER WEATHER

Misses and schoolgirls are always in favor of the belted leather coat for winter's stormy weather. These coats are comfortable and defy both wind and rain, and yet they are much smarter looking than an ordinary coat. This model is very popular. It is made on a yoke, is belted and has a shawl collar of racoon.

GO TO

The Sweetheart Show
The Sweetheart Show, the supreme musical comedy sensation, built for laughing purposes only, will be seen at the McSwain today and a word in advance guarantees the big fun event of the season. Headed by Ione O'Donnell, musical comedy's most accomplished violinist, supported by a well known cast of musical comedy favorites who were selected for their fitness for the various parts and voices together with a bevy of pretty girls, makes an entertainment of delightful enjoyment. The musical numbers are of the whistly kind and are put over with a snap and pep that makes an evening's enjoyment pass away almost too quickly.

At the McSwain
A visitor to the Thomas H. Ince motion picture studio recently might have concluded that the overallis movement has reached the screen stars. There was pretty Doris May not only arrayed in an ill-fitting suit of denim jeans, but also daubed with grease from head to foot. She laughingly explained that she had been "monkeying with" a printing press used on one of the "sets" at the studio.

When Douglas MacLean, her co-star came rambling upon the "set" in a swaggy outfit of overalls, it began to look like a conspiracy. But Doug was about to make some of the comedy scenes in "Let's Be Fashionable," the youthful pair's latest frolicsome comedy, which will be on view at the McSwain Theater today.

"According to the story," he smiled, "my trousers have been more or less mutilated by an unfriendly bulldog and I'm obliged to put on the overalls to keep within the law."

"Let's Be Fashionable" is an enjoyable picture about a pair of new-layers who got into all sorts of laughable fixes by trying to keep up with high society. The story was written by Mildred Considine and adapted to the screen by Luther Reed.

At the American
That popular idol of the screen, William Farnum, is coming to the American Theater today in his latest William Fox production, "The Orphan," a stirring story of the West, written by Clarence E. Mulford.

In "The Orphan" Mr. Farnum has one of the most powerful roles of his career, according to advance reports. He is cast as an outlaw hated and feared more violently than the cowpunchers than anyone known to the little town of Ford's Station. It is said that Mr. Farnum puts tremendous dash, vigor and fire into this powerful story of the days of bandits and Indians and stage coach holdups.

Mr. Farnum appears as The Orphan, a victim of misfortune and circumstance, who has been accused of committing numerous crimes, the worst of which were not of his doing. How he gains the friendship of the Sheriff—who has gone out to capture him—and subsequently makes a new start in life after winning the love of a beautiful girl, is told in the development of a plot which, it is declared, never has been surpassed by any in which Farnum has figured on the screen.

The support includes the beautiful Louise Lovely, Henry J. Herbert, G. Raymond Nye, Olive White, George Nichols, Earl Crain, Harry De Vere, Al Fremont and Carlie Clark Ward. J. Gordon Edwards directed the picture.

Our observation is that when a man knows he's being vamped he can save himself by pushing his hat down over his eyes.

After the league games, he will begin his regular series of games with the Oklahoma colleges as is scheduled each year. The Normal team last year made a good showing and has a much better chance this year of making a good record. Clary has confidence in the ability of his men to meet their opponents in a favorable manner and promises many good games for the basketball fans of the city.

OKMULGEE COUNTY TO GET CLEANING

OKMULGEE, Jan. 3.—Okmulgee county is going to be as clean as the proverbial village in Holland if the sheriff-elect and county attorney-elect can exert any power in that direction.

The bid's "going to be on from here out."

Lon Kuhn, who will become sheriff the first of the year, announced today that he has completed his appointment of deputies throughout the county and is going to start a campaign that will clean up every nook and corner of the county.

Moonsingers, robbers, pickpockets and crooks in general are going to be "dusted" from the county in short order if the present plans carry.

Yesterday afternoon James Hepburn county attorney-elect, was in conference with Grant Gillespie, his assistant, and though no definite statement was made as to what the two were talking about, it was reported on good authority that the program for the coming year was discussed and the county attorney's office will join hands with the sheriff in making Okmulgee county spotless.

Kuhn has started out by appointing well known officers of the district as deputy sheriffs and as soon as he goes into office will begin his campaign against vice in general.

County Commissioners
Investigating Byng
Low Water Bridge

Pontotoc county commissioners met Monday morning for their regular monthly meeting. The meeting is still in session, having adjourned Monday afternoon to meet again Tuesday morning. Aside from the purely routine work done by the body, several bonds were approved for newly-elected county and township officers, and a few of the new men were sworn in by the clerk.

The Byng bridge, a portion of which was washed away last June, came up for consideration when a report from the state highway engineer, covering its condition, and suggesting the manner in which it should be repaired, was presented to the commissioners by the clerk. The substance of this report was printed in the Evening News December 23. It pointed out that the bridge of the old bridge for about ten thousand dollars, and that a concrete curtain wall could be added for an additional five thousand dollars, which would protect the structure from the float logs which lodged against the old bridge and contributed much to its destruction.

A letter, accompanying the report of the highway engineer, stated that the writer had made several attempts to arrange for a joint meeting between the commissioners of Seminole and Pontotoc counties and members of his force, but up to the time of the writing no headway had been made.

The Byng bridge was built by the two counties it connects working in conjunction with the state highway department, and the joint action of the three parties will be required in repairing it. From the tone of the letter it would appear that the state highway department is ready to do the state's part of the work, and the Pontotoc county commissioners approve the plan submitted by the state officials, and are ready to do their part toward rebuilding the structure. They state that they were once notified to attend a joint meeting at Okmulgee City, but received word that the meeting had been called off before the date set to attend.

It is reported that one of the commissioners for Seminole county resigned some time ago, and that a successor was only recently appointed. It is hoped that since this vacancy has been filled a joint meeting may be arranged in the near future, when some definite action may be decided on, and carried out.

A temporary wooden approach was recently built at the bridge which was some aid to traffic, but this was torn up Saturday, when a large truck loaded with heavy oil casing undertook to cross it.

The commissioners went to the bridge Tuesday afternoon to see whether the crossing is safe for the traveling public, and if not, to see what can be done to repair it temporarily. If, in their opinion, the crossing is dangerous and cannot be made safe for traffic, the commissioners will post notices, condemning the bridge.

The statement was made that the county treasury is very low of funds, but when some definite course can be decided on by the two counties and the highway department, Pontotoc county will find a way to do its part.

MEGAPHONE "ARTIST" IN OLD DAYS HELPS RAISE CENTENNIAL GIFT TO AMHERST

Eugene S. Wilson, at right, and Arthur Curtiss James.

A megaphone "artist" in old Amherst days, Eugene S. Wilson, then affectionately known as "Tug," has extended his field of auditors. He is now vice president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company and can make himself heard anywhere. He is shown talking to Arthur Curtiss James, commodore of the New York Yacht club, attending an Amherst rally of alumni in the interest of their $3,000,000 centennial gift to the college. Wilson still has his megaphone, the picture shows.

UNCLE SAM GIVES COMMUNISTS' XMAS GIFTS: THEIR TICKETS BACK TO EUROPEAN SHORES

Some of the departing Communists "walking the (gang) plank" at Ellis Island.

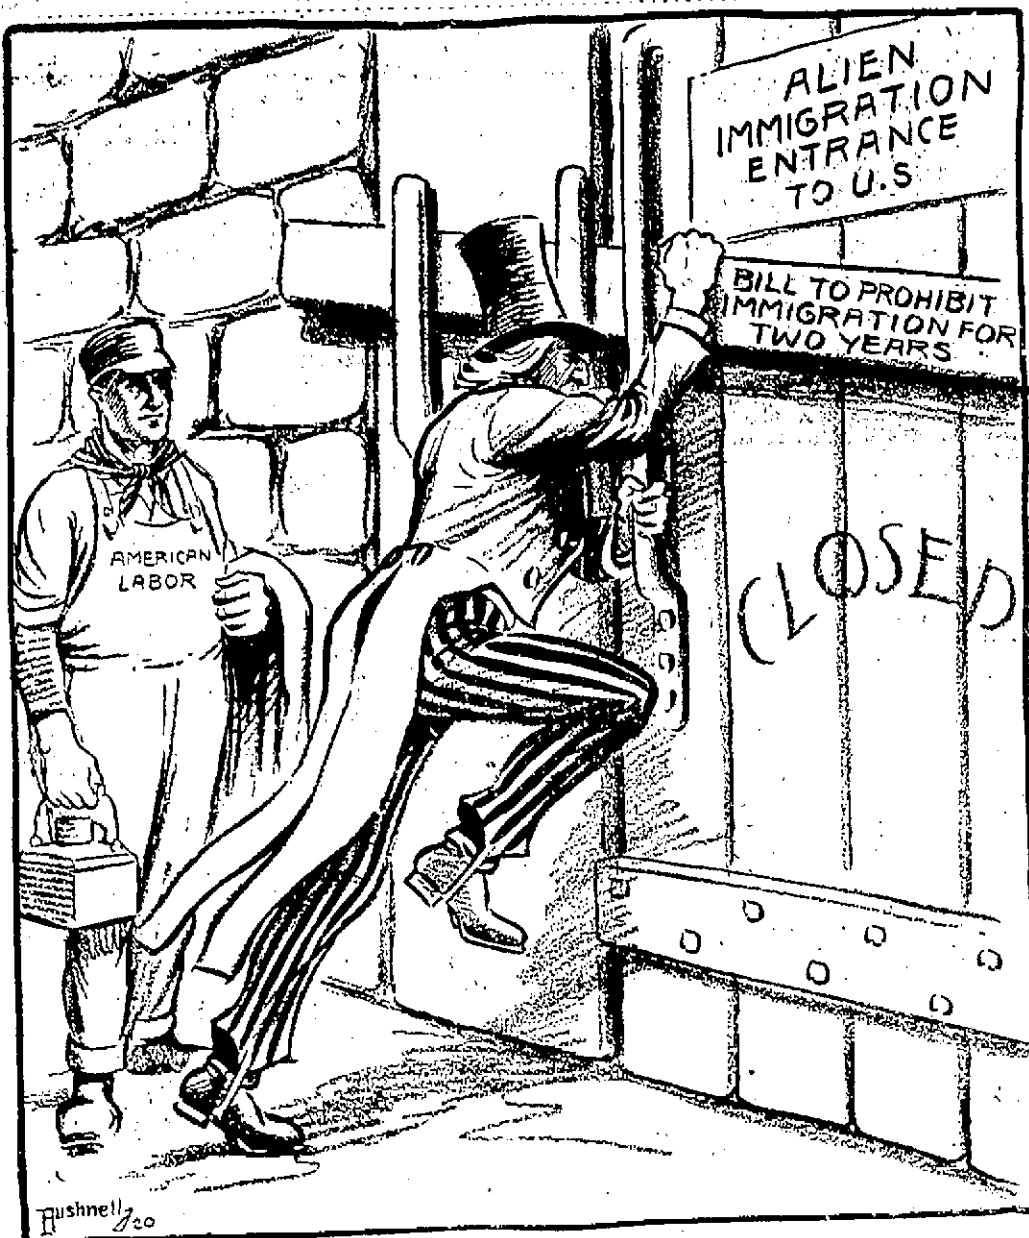

Uncle Sam's holiday greetings to twenty-three Communists who were known to be leaders in spreading the doctrine of Lenine in the U. S. consisted of transportation back to the lands from whence they came. Strange to say, these undesirables who talked so loudly of the injustice done the poor man in this country were quite loath to leave for other shores—even though the voyage will take them nearer Lenine and the Communist haven.

Clifford Harrison "mixing one" for guest at Embassy Club.

Visitors at the American bar at the Embassy Club in London insist that Clifford Harrison, better known as "Pop," is the champion cocktail mixer. "This said that he can shake 200 satisfying drinks. Why some person has sent this picture and story to tease Americans is unknown.

SCRATCH BY FOOD CAUSE OF INJURY TO NOTED TENOR

Diagram showing location of blood vessel which burst and picture of Caruso.

Enrico Caruso, noted tenor, is singing again and his voice apparently has not suffered from the bursting of a tiny blood vessel recently while he was warbling in "Elixir d'Amore" in New York. According to Dr. Philip Horowitz, Caruso's physician, the blood vessel which burst had been scratched by a morsel of food. The above diagram shows the location of the blood vessel and important parts of the throat. 1—Upper nasal resonance chamber, a sounding board. 2—Middle nasal cavity, a resonance chamber. 3—Lower nasal cavity. 4—The uvula, or soft palate. 5—The epiglottis. 6—"The great muscle which controls the tongue." 7—The larynx, or "voice box." 8—The upper controlling ring of the esophagus. Arrow points to location of small blood vessel that burst.

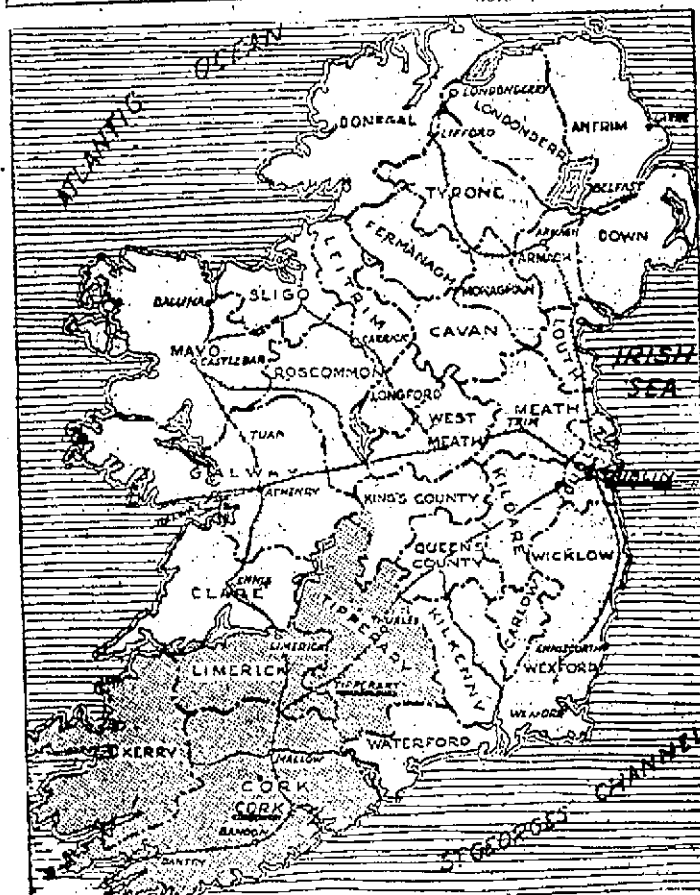

EVELYN NESBIT APPEARS IN COURT

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Clifford, photographed in court.

Another short paragraph in the story of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Clifford's tumultuous life was written the other day when she appeared in a New York court to prosecute her brother on a charge of withholding $390 due her on the loan of a diamond ring. She told the court that without that money she would be unable to spend Christmas with her son Russell, who is with his maternal grandmother in Pittsburg.

PROTECTION LAWS FOR WOMEN URGED

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Enactment of laws in all states to co-operate with the federal government in protecting maternity, particularly among working women, was urged by speakers at the closing sessions of the fourteenth annual meeting of the American Association for Labor Legislation here today.

Restriction of employment, cash benefits to offset loss of earnings and free medical care were declared to be the pressing need to overcome an increasing mortality rate for both mothers and infants.

Childbirth Kills Many.
Dr. Richard Bolt, general director of the American Child Hygiene association, said it was a "condemning fact that in this enlightened age and prosperous country, more women between 15 and 45 years of age lose life from conditions connected with childbirth than from any other cause except tuberculosis."

More than 23,000 mothers died under these conditions in the United States during the past year, he said.

To Consider Tariff.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The senate finance committee was prepared to begin consideration of the Forney emergency tariff bill today at a meeting called by Senator Penrose, its chairman, who returned to the capitol yesterday after an absence of more than a year.

Changes of the bill in the senate are believed not to have been improved by the return of the Pennsylvania senator to that body.

FARMERS OPPOSE STATE EXTRAVAGANCE

Strict economy on the part of the state legislature is demanded in the resolutions adopted by the Farmers Union of Pontotoc county in their county-wide weekly meeting at Ada Saturday afternoon. They declare opposition to large appropriations and salary increases and to the creation of any new state institutions. They also lend endorsement to the plan of giving state aid in building warehouses in the various counties of the state. Following are the resolutions.

The Farmers Educational and Co-operative Union of Pontotoc county in county meeting assembled in the city of Ada the 1st day of January, 1920, having in mind the present serious financial condition of the farmers of the state and realizing the ever increasing burdens of taxation in Oklahoma resolve to submit to our representatives in the state legislature the following requests.

1. We urge our representatives to support a resolution extending the time of paying the first half of 1920 taxes for at least three months no taxes to become delinquent or draw a penalty for non-payment for at least three months after January 1, 1920.

2. We endorse the plan suggested by the Farmers Union to have the state appropriate $1,750,000 for the purpose of building warehouses in the cotton and wheat counties of the state, such warehouses to be under the control and management of the farmers of the various counties.

3. We are opposed to any increase in state appropriations over the total appropriations made by the legislature in 1919. We are particularly opposed to any appropriation for the purpose of building any additional buildings in any of our state institutions unless such additional buildings are to be erected at our state asylums and then only when they are absolutely necessary to take care of the state's unfortunate citizens.

4. We are opposed to the creation of any additional state institutions for any purpose whatsoever and urge our representatives to oppose the creation of any more institutions.

5. We denounce as criminal extravagance the proposed erection of a football track at Oklahoma University to cost $340,000. We call our representatives attention to the sad fact that there are in Oklahoma today many thousands of poor children who do not have sufficient clothing to keep them in comfort this winter. In view of the widespread need of our people we strongly condemn the proposed expenditure of money for building football tracks anywhere in the state.

6. We are opposed to salary increases for either state or county officials. We call the attention of the legislature to the fact that the high cost of living is coming down, that the price of farm products is far below the cost of production, and that it is the duty of our officials to live on the salaries now provided by law and not to seek increases in salaries.

7. We are in favor of a better system of road building, a system that will build roads for the accommodation of the people and not for the accommodation of automobile tourists only. We believe that roads should lead from the farm communities to the principal trading points of the various counties and not from one county to another to be traveled only by joyriders.

8. We believe that the tax on automobiles should be collected in the counties where the automobiles are owned and kept and not collected at Oklahoma City. We believe that this tax should be spent on the roads in the counties where collected and where the money will do the most good.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to our representatives in the legislature, Luther Harrison of Ada and W. O. Pratt of Roff, and that a copy be sent to our county papers for publication.

Oil Production Being Reduced To Maintain Prices

A. J. Walker returned Monday from a trip through the Redford, Hewitt, Comanche and Walters oil fields, where he has holdings. Mr. Walker reports that several of the large pipeline companies operating in that district have recently reduced the amount of oil they will handle through their pipe lines, in an effort to hold up the price of oil.

The Magnolia, Empire, Texas and Prairie companies have announced that they will accept for transportation through their pipe lines only 50 per cent of the potential production of the various producers they serve. It is reported that the Waters-Pierce company has refused to accept any oil for transportation at all.

It is not known just how long this condition will last, but it is the opinion that the necessity which prompted the orders will have been outlived within a few months. The application of the rule has resulted in the shutting down of a number of wells in the fields affected, and the lessening of production in other wells.

The condition of congestion which rendered the order necessary is said to be purely local and to effect only the fields mentioned above.

NEWSNOTES FROM MOVIELAND

George and Anita Stewart.

"Don't they look alike?" "Are they really brother and sister?" "They don't look a bit alike, do they?" "There's a slight family resemblance, isn't there?"

These and many other such remarks will greet this new picture of Anita Stewart and her young brother. What's your opinion? Mine is that it is a good picture whether they look alike or not. Miss Stewart, who is known in private life as Mrs. Rudolph Cameron, is now making a new picture called "The Tornado."

George Stewart has not been in pictures long, but he is already making rapid strides toward film fame. His latest screen performance was in "Old Dad," in which he played opposite Mildred Harris.

"MELANCHOLIC" TO FOLLOW "VIRGINIAN" Douglas Fairbanks' production schedule is dated so far ahead that it looks as if he and Mrs. Fairbanks (Mary Pickford, of course) would have to postpone their working trip to Europe until the spring. After the elaborate production of "The Virginian," planned by Mr. Fairbanks, he will do another original by Ron Wagner entitled "The Melancholic," which, if we remember rightly, is the title of what he plans to be a sequel to "The Nut," the themes of both of which promise to be genuine semi-serious surprises.

Heard in Passing.

Clara Young, the present Mrs. James Young, formerly Clara Whipple, is shortly to return to screenland as a star, throwing her hat into the ring in competition with many luminaries, including Clara.

Attempt To Burn Stanfield Barn Not Successful

Fire, thought to have been of incendiary origin, was discovered at 11:30 last night burning at two corners of a feed barn owned by Allen Stanfield, and located at the west edge of the city limits. The blaze was noticed by parties living near by and extinguished before it could make much headway. No damage was done, but a few minutes delay on the part of the men who noticed the fire would have resulted in a loss of the barn and the slaughter plant located near it.

The fact that the grass and straw at two corners of the barn were burning in about the same way leads the owner to believe that the fire was started by someone who wished to destroy the property.

Officers were called and a search was made for tracks, but none were found. Inquiry developed that no one had been seen in the vicinity of the barn previous to the fire. Mr. Stanfield stayed at the barn the remainder of the night to catch the guilty party should he return to complete the job.

PRESS COERCING IRISH TO ACCEPT SPEAKER STATES

Fight Upon Adoption of Treaty With England Waxes Fierce.

"PEOPLE STAMPEDED"

Mrs. McSwinnery Calls Hand of Ardent Supporter of New Pact.

(By the Associated Press)

DUBLIN, Jan. 4.—On the re-assembling of the Dail Eireann today the new version of Eamonn de Valera's amendment was distributed to the members. It proposes a treaty of amity and association between Ireland and the government of Great Britain and other states of the British commonwealth.

The first speaker at today's session was Donald Buckley of Kildare, who proposed the treaty. "The people of this country have been stamped into acceptance of the treaty by the rotten press of Ireland," he said, "and I shall vote against it."

Alexander McKabe, of Sligo, followed with a plea for acceptance. While he was picturing the disappointment he said millions of Irish women and children would feel if the treaty were rejected. Miss Mary McSwinnery interrupted him, saying the women were not in favor of the treaty.

To this McKabe retorted: "I know what the women of Ireland want as well as you."

Mrs. Pearce, mother of Patrick Pearce the first president of the republic, who was executed after the Dublin uprising in 1916, spoke against the treaty. She declared she knew that her son, if he were alive, would vote for rejection.

Kilbane Seeks Ring Honors Across Seas When Spring Opens

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 4.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion of the world, plans to leave this country March 1 to look over the featherweight material across the seas with the idea of finding a worthy opponent. He expects to visit England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and Italy, and probably Australia.

Kilbane said today that he does not expect to meet any foreign boxers abroad except in exhibition bouts. If a suitable opponent is found, Kilbane plans to meet him in New York, if arrangements can be made.

The Cleveland boxer will be the first world's champion with the exception of Tommy Burns, to make such a tour. When he sails, he will have been champion of his class for ten years. John L. Sullivan, who was champion from February 7, 1882, until September 1, 1892, is the only other American champion to hold a title as long.

Kilbane has been in the ring fifteen years. He took part in 137 contests, 86 of which were in defense of his title. Kilbane defeated Abe Attell for the featherweight championship, February 22, 1912.

He will be accompanied abroad by his wife and daughter, May, Jack Garvey, his business representative, Al Ziemer, his sparring partner, and Jimmy Dougherty of Philadelphia, a personal friend.

Small Child Burned By Flaming Sack in Accident Saturday

Elmer Cook, 5-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cook, 830 South Cherry, who was badly burned about the head and shoulders Saturday afternoon was reported to day barely out of danger of pneumonia following complications which resulted from the accident.

Doctors described the burns as rather severe but not dangerous.

The child was playing in the yard with an older brother Saturday afternoon and was looking up at a burning sack which was being held by a stick over his head by the older playmate. Suddenly the cloth burned in two and the flaming sack enveloped the child's head. Considerable swelling resulted from the burns, doctors said.

DOUSTER CASES TO START THURSDAY

Ardmore Is Guessing As Developments Are Due to Open Tomorrow.

ARDMORE, Jan. 4.—Official Carter county is guessing today. Five officers are under fire and the attorney general won't say who they are nor what charges will be filed against them.

To make it more complicated, Judge Elmer E. Fulton, assistant attorney general, said this morning that he is not positive the fifth party would be charged. Review of the testimony would have to bring new points to bear on the possible charge, he said.

Judge Fulton will come to Ardmore Thursday morning and upon his arrival will file the charges in district court. He had intended coming here Wednesday, but office work will delay him for another day. He and Attorney General Freeling were going over details of the case this morning with a view of winding up things.

Nature of Charges Vague. The charges will be based on "failure to perform their duties imposed by law," Mr. Fulton said this morning.

Russell Brown will be Mr. Fulton's only assistant in the prosecution. Mr. Freeling said. Mr. Brown was appointed to assist Mr. Fulton in the investigation which started just after the attack on Mrs. George W. Casey on November 4 on East Broadway by four parties, against whom charges of assault with intent to kill are pending in the district court. Mr. Brown was instrumental in asking the governor for the investigation and clean-up.

Jury Commission at Work. The new jury commission started work this morning selecting prospective jurors for the term of district court which starts January 16.

Although it has not been stated, it is believed that the ouster suits to be filed by Mr. Fulton Thursday will be tried at this term of court with a selected judge presiding in lieu of Judge Tom Champion. It has been stated on former occasions by the attorney general and his assistants that they desire a speedy trial for the accused county officials. On the other hand, officials who have been under fire have announced a desire to see the suits started.

HOTEL GUESTS FLEE IN NIGHT CLOTHES FROM FIRE

MIAMI, Okla., Jan. 3.—Flames of unknown origin early this morning destroyed the Lions Hotel and Will Lions furniture store and undertaking establishment at Vinita. Guests of the hotel, aroused by the smoke, escaped in their night clothes.

The fire was confined to the one building. The loss approximately is $20,000.

Several persons were burned or injured by jumping from the second story of the hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lomax were badly burned as they fled from the blazing building. Mrs. Will Lions, wife of the hotel proprietor, also suffered burns in an attempt to escape. Another guest of the hotel suffered a fractured leg when he jumped from the window of his room. Although three people were reported missing early this morning, it was believed the rumors would prove without foundation.

The entire town was threatened for a time and the Miami fire department was in readiness to respond to an emergency call.

Mine Properties Receive the Greatest Damage in Early Storm.

WRECKS SMALL TOWN

Twenty Five Houses Left in Ruin at Picher As Wind Subsides.

(By the Associated Press)

MIAMI, Jan. 4.—Thousands of dollars worth of damage was done in Ottawa county early today by a wind storm that in some sections reached a stage almost cyclonic. Mine properties suffered the greatest loss but dwelling houses were blown down, telephone lines destroyed and business fronts blown in.

On the Bob King farm, three miles east of Miami, the dwelling houses, barn, garage and poultry houses were blown away. Several head of livestock were killed.

About twenty-five houses in Picher were blown down.

At the Blue Goose mine at Cardin, a tram and two houses were blown down. A tram at the Blue Bird mine was demolished. At the Quapaw mines west of Commerce, the highest and longest tram in the district was blown down. It was 1,200 feet long and 75 feet high and cost several thousand dollars.

At the Acme mine east of Picher all of the mine buildings, except the main mill, are down. The same condition is reported at the Warner mine in Cardin. East of Cardin to the central office of the telephone company, a distance of a mile, the big poles were all broken off and the entire line is out of commission.

Damage at McAlester.

McALESTER, Jan. 4.—A wind storm which struck this section about 3:30 this morning did considerable damage. At North McAlester the residence of Christian Drumb was turned over. The M. K. & L. car sheds were demolished and blown into a neighboring yard. Exc cars were turned over, smoke stacks of mines blown down, garages and barns blown over and houses unroofed.

Drought Not Broken.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 4.—Thunder storms, accompanied by high winds, were prevalent in many parts of the state early today according to announcements at the United States Weather Bureau here. The rain was not sufficient to relieve the drought conditions, it was said, not extending to the west and northwest portions of the state where moisture is most needed.

A cold wave is on the bill for tonight and Thursday, temperatures of 14 to 22 degrees above zero being forecast for the northern section and from 20 to 28 degrees for the southern section of the state. Rising temperatures are predicted for Friday.

FINISHING TOUCHES ON PREPARATIONS FOR POULTRY SHOW

Everything is ready for the opening of the annual show of the Pontotoc County Poultry Association which is scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. A large number of coops have been provided and entries began today. They will close Thursday at noon and the judging will begin promptly.

When this organization held its first show a few years ago only about 30 birds were on exhibit. Last year the entries were around 350 fowls. The officers confidently expect even more this year.

The improvement in the quality of the birds exhibited has been even more marked than the increase in number. Several flocks have won high honors at state fairs and shows both in Oklahoma and in other states and the fame of these chickens has traveled far and wide among poultry raisers. The interest in the poultry industry has grown rapidly and this annual show has had a marked influence in creating interest in pure bred fowls. Nearly every standard variety is represented now and the best of these will be on exhibition at this show.

Secretary Dodge stated that a number of exhibits from other counties will have places in the show. Notably these are entries from Hughes and Atoka counties.

War Tax Is Dropped On Fountain Drinks; Kids Get the Pennies

The old maxim of "take care of your pennies and your dollars will take care of themselves," can now be more successfully applied. War tax on drinks was removed January 1. It took rank who are in the habit of taking their daily trips to the drink fountains all this week to realize this fact.

Drinks here in some cases, including coca-cola, were reduced to 5 cents recently by fountain but war tax was continued on other articles. The new tax bill removed war tax on drinks, while the Internal Revenue Bureau is collecting 9 cents a gallon on all syrups used, which eliminates the necessity of carrying pennies.

Now, instead of carrying the pennies around to pay war tax on drinks, it will be possible for the kiddies to beg the man of the house for a few cents for their savings bank.

ECONOMIC RUIN FACING EUROPE

Prem. Lloyd George Meets Briand in An Effort to Preserve Entente.

CANNES, France, Jan. 4.—To save Europe from complete economic disintegration and keep the entente from falling apart are the big tasks to be undertaken here by Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain and Premier Briand of France.

Mr. Lloyd George intends that this shall be the last meeting of the supreme council if these is any way of bringing pending questions to a point where they can be dealt with by ambassadors of the allied powers. Since his arrival he has been preparing himself for a strenuous week of work during which he is going to try to raise the discussion above all individual differences between the members of the entente and apply a remedy from which all Europe will derive benefit.

M. Briand is understood, also to favor adoption of a broad understanding as to what is needed to save the situation and then let the work proceed through regular diplomatic channels. Details as to the application of the terms are being left to the council of ambassadors.

Whether the two premiers' efforts to submerge part of the contentions in a general consideration of the ills of Europe will succeed depends somewhat on the result of their private talks today and tomorrow, in advance of the council meeting.

The force of the Tulsa Tribune was forced to move to the plant of the Tulsa World to get out an edition on account of power lines being down.

CRIMINALS TAKE UP ARMS; POLICE ARE 'MYSTIFIED'

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Police authorities of this city were today considering measures looking to the disarmament of Gotham. They had before them newspaper clippings, police and hospital records covering the New Year's revel, during which the use of fire arms was remarkable for a city supposed to be law abiding.

It was asserted that thousands of men were carrying firearms, and that a large portion of them were at least potential criminals.

Merchants were alleged to have sold weapons without regard to the Sullivan law, and New York gunmen and bandits were said to have no trouble in crossing to New Jersey and stocking up on munitions of war. It seemed probable that some means would be found to break New York of the habit of carrying pistols, but the nature of the steps to be taken were not revealed.

Congress Has Mass Of Bills Standing Out for Settling

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Congress faced a mass of pending and prospective legislation that may keep it steadily at work until late in the summer, when it got down to work today on the 1922 program.

Along with the outlined load of appropriation bills to be handled for the first time by house and senate in budget form, there confronts the senate the probability of more or less protracted debate over the new international agreements resulting from the Washington arms conference, while the house also faced important issues, including the new anti-lynch bill.

LEGION DRAFTS PLANS TO OPEN OWN HALL HERE

Greatest Time Since K. P. Days Lies Ahead of Local Veterans.

MEMBER DRIVE OPENS

Sports and Speeches To Be Feature of Post Meeting Here January 10.

(By the Associated Press)

Never since the days of kitchen police and beans for breakfast have Ada veterans of the World War planned a bigger program of activities, including sports, social functions, and general good-fellowship than that which will open January 10, officers of the Norman Howard post of the American Legion declared this morning.

This date will mark the opening of a Legion hall, in the west half of the Business College rooms, where a well-equipped community and recreation center for former soldiers will be maintained.

Ada Legionnaires, after renting the hall several days ago, have set about furnishing it as a meeting place for the post and as a place where ex-soldiers can spend their idle hours, reading, listening to music and swapping yarns of the training camps and trenches.

Dudley Monk, Okmulgee, state judge advocate of the Legion, will be here at the meeting Tuesday night, January 10, to speak on the aims and benefits of the Legion. He will also assist in launching the big membership drive, due to start actively the next morning. Rev. Richard Hatch, rector of the local St. Luke's church and chairman of the local post's committee on activities, will outline his program of work and amusements for the year.

To Renew Standing.

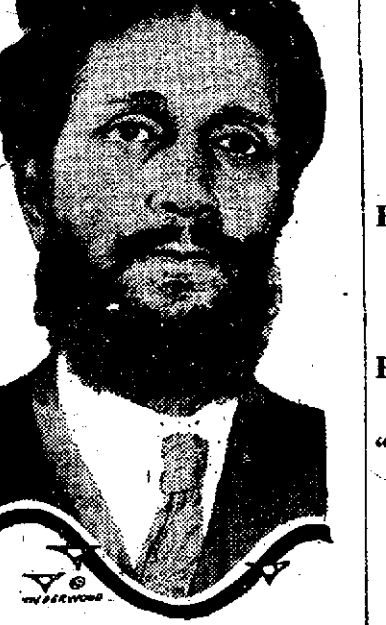

Bill Emanuel, vice-commander of Norman Howard post, will explain in detail all plans for boosting the post membership rolls to its highest point. The high school orchestra will furnish music for the meeting and eats will be served for all "buddies." Ex-service men will be expected to come prepared to pay their new membership dues, which will be $2.75 for the year.

Boxing contests will furnish a highlight for the meeting. Cooper and Thomas, local fistic heavyweights, will go in for an exhibition bout to settle for their own content the Ada ring title. Cooper won a newspaper decision over Thomas at an American Legion stunt night held in the East Center ballroom recently. A humorous bout between two negro contenders also will be a feature of the night. It is also possible that another white bout will be staged.

CITY BOND ISSUE APPROVED BY C.C.

$12,000 for Removing Ada from Mud Is Declared Advisable Now.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce, after an investigation by a special committee, last evening adopted a resolution, declaring themselves in favor of a bond issue of $12,000, the proceeds from the sale to be used in carrying on street work that has been started and that ought to be done within the next six months.

The plan, if it goes through, is to let the city buy the bonds with the sinking fund and pay the money back before the sinking fund money is to be paid on present outstanding indebtedness. In this way, the city will save considerable interest, it is pointed out.

When seen about the project this morning, Commissioner Walter S. Smith stated that the city is now at a critical place. "The citizens are grumbling at a rapid rate and we have every reason to believe that this will keep up if the city can do its part. If we can get most of the streets graveled, the traffic will be directed, and Ada for a long time to come will be out of the mud. It seems to me that it would be a calamity for this good work to stop."

"Another thing which seems to make a bond issue at this time advisable is the fact that many people are out of work. I doubt if there will be a time in many years when we can get work done as well for the amount of money expended as at present."

The matter of a bond election will be brought before the city commissioners at an early date and some definite action taken.

HANGMAN CAPS FOUND ON TRIO OF U. S. SLAIN

Embalmer Tells Gruesome Story To Probers in Senate Today.

ROPES AROUND NECKS

"Disinterred Soldiers Had Undeniable Marks of Their Execution."

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Rufus P. Hubbard of New York, employed by the American Graves Registration Service in preparing bodies of American soldiers for shipment from France, told a senate committee today that on three bodies of disinterred soldiers he found a rope around the neck of each and a black cap over each face.

Called as the first witness at the resumption of hearings of the committee investigating charges by Senator Watson, democrat of Georgia, that American soldiers were hanged without trial in France, Hubbard declared there was nothing in the coffee by which the bodies could be identified.

"The bodies were identified by the cross on the outside of the coffin and the black caps were not removed before the bodies were shipped to the United States for burial," Hubbard testified.

Major Opie of Stunton, Va., commandant of the Third Battalion, 116 Infantry, accused by Henry L. Scott of Kenmore, Ohio, of having shot two soldiers in France, was in hand with his counsel to enter a formal denial of the charges. Because some of the witnesses were anxious to testify and return home, there was no early reference to the Opie case.

Worked as Embalmer.

Describing his work in the field as an assistant embalmer, Hubbard went into great detail while Chairman Brandegee was trying to find out what he knew about charges of illegal hangings.

"You've written a long letter, now tell us in your own way what you know about the hangings charges," Chairman Brandegee insisted.

"While at a cemetery in France helping to get the bodies ready for shipment home," the witness testified, "I saw three bodies brought up with the ropes and black caps just as they were when they were hanged. I think two were negroes and one a white man. I think it was disgraceful to the army that the bodies went to the parents without the black caps being removed."

The witness gave the names of several persons who were present at the cemetery with him.

There was too much hurry in the registration service," he continued, "and many sad mistakes in identification were made."

Oklahoma Man Testifies.

Don L. Jacobson, formerly of New Haven, Conn., but now living at Guthrie, Okla., was another witness called.

"Ever see a soldier hanged without a trial?" asked Chairman Brandegee.

"I did not."

"Do you know anything about illegal hangings at Geivres, France?"

"No."

Jacobson then told how he had put the noose around the neck of a negro soldier hanged after a court martial conviction. After the hanging the body was cut down and a short strip of rope was left around the neck, he said.

"It was customary to bury a man hanged with the rope and black cap in place," he declared.

Jacobson testified that the soldier at whose execution he assisted was buried in the cemetery of Bazille, where Hubbard previously had testified that three bodies were dug up.

Operators' Meeting With Miners Called Off by John Lewis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 4.—The meeting of the coal operators of the Central Competitive field with officials of the United Mine Workers of America, called to meet at Pittsburg Friday, was called off today by John L. Lewis, president of the union.

The Pittsburg meeting was for the purpose of fixing a date for holding negotiations on a wage agreement to become effective next April, and Mr. Lewis, in a formal statement, declared the meeting was discarded because operators refused to meet with the miners.

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, "Soon Does Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theodor's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the faded liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system.

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words, "Theodor's Black-Draught." NC-141

AUSTRIA FACING NEW YEAR UNDER HEAVY DEFICITS

VIENNA, Jan. 2.—Indications are that the beginning of the new year will find the government facing a deficit of 200,000,000,000 crowns. It had reached 165,000,000,000 at the end of October.

The largest single item of the deficit is for subsidized foodstuffs bought outside the country, this alone amounting to 83,000,000,000 crowns. The railways have been run at a loss of 28,000,000,000.

Another serious item of loss has been on foreign exchange, the government being forced to sell crowns for foreign values for payments of flour, fats and various other commodities under the food subsidy plan.

During the past few months the fall of the crown against standard values has been unchecked and its purchasing value has about reached the vanishing point.

The largest note in circulation in Austria has been 10,000 crowns, but the tremendous volume of circulation has made even that denomination insufficient and an issue of 100,000 crown notes is in preparation.

Where 1,000 and lesser notes are handled in quantities they are no longer counted, but weighed. A table of weights has been worked out and found to be accurate enough for all ordinary purposes when jewellers' scales are used.

In the mind of the average Austrian there seems to linger some faint belief that some day and some how the crown will recover in value and he gambles on that hope even in such business deals.

Meanwhile, the presses are turning out nearly 1,900,000,000 a day, the last week in October the issue amounted to 10,000,000,000, and he sees his maximum note of circulation advance from 10,000 to 100,000-crown denomination and even that worth but little more than the tinner was six months ago.

REMARKABLE PLAYING OF BILL TILDEN AND MRS. MALLORY 1921 NET FEATURES

William T. Tilden II and Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory.

By NORMAN E. BROWN

America's supremacy in sport never was demonstrated more conclusively to Americans and the world in general than it was by the U. S. tennis stars during the year 1921. The past year will go down as the greatest in the history of the sport.

Speaking generally, more tournaments were held in the U. S. than ever before. More clubs and communities awakened to the demand for the game and provided adequate provisions for the game. And then, in the national and international matches the leading players of the U. S. stood out like lighthouses on a rockbound coast.

William T. Tilden, modest and smiling, was the biggest hero of the year. Holder of the international championship by virtue of his victory on the famous Wimbledon courts in 1920, Tilden returned to England and on the same courts defended his title. Despite illness, he won the final match against B. C. Horton, a South African star. His claim to international honors was made doubly clear by an earlier feat in winning the hard court tournament in France.

Returning to the U. S. Tilden represented his country on the Davis cup team, chosen to defend that trophy. With R. Norris Williams, William M. Johnston and Watson Washburn, he successfully defended the cup, making a clean sweep of the series.

The cup matches gave American tennis devotees some real tennis. Teams from many foreign countries, composed of the greatest net stars in their respective lands, came to this country and staged the preliminary matches. The appearance of these teams in many sections of the country provided real feats for tennis fans.

The Japanese team won the right to meet the U. S. in the finals and was vanquished handily. Tilden alone defeating both Inchiya Kumagae and Zenzo Shimidzu.

In the All-Comers tourney, held at Philadelphia, Tilden performed a feat unequalled in tennis history. He defeated Irving C. Wright, P. L. Goldborough Jr., Shimidzu, William M. Johnston, F. Gordon Lowe of the British Isles, Willis E. Davis of the U. S. and then Wallace Johnson. Johnson was the only man to take a single set from him.

Tilden also won the national title and the national doubles title with Vincent Richards as his partner.

Of the women stars, Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory was the bright luminary. She showed her outtime form in winning the national title. It was clearly in this tourney that the most sensational incident of the year occurred. Suzanne Lenglen of France, acclaimed the wonder tennis player of Europe and easily its champion, had come to this country to meet America's greatest feminine stars. She met Mrs. Mallory in the second round of the tourney. Mrs. Mallory won the first set 6-2. In the second set, while playing the second game, Mlle. Lenglen collapsed and was assisted off the court. Illness was given as the reason for her failure to again enter competition in the tourney. A lengthy tour planned for her in this country was also abandoned.

CHICAGO TEAM GETS NO REST FOR HOLIDAYS

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—While students of the University of Chicago enjoyed a week's Christmas vacation, the Maroon basketball squad spent every afternoon practicing to overcome weaknesses which cropped out in their early encounters.

Coach Nels Norgren, in charge of the quintet, is worried. He has a large and promising aggregation of steady and consistent players, with two or three individual stars, and plenty of material which can be moulded into stars; yet his team is weak and far from the standard set by last year's squad. Birkhoff, Crisler, and other alumni who won fame in the basket game are assisting Norgren from the sidelines.

Romney, who showed up as an individual star and point winner in the early games, is having trouble to get the proper co-operation and team work into his efforts. In the short passing game, which Norgren is using, Romney is successful at receiving, but has proved inaccurate in passing. He is quick, however, and an excellent player, by far the best the Maroons have this year. Captain Halladay, who has shown a surprising lack of form for an experienced and consistent player, is visibly worried about himself. Coach Norgren expects him to improve with the progress of the schedule, however.

Among the new men, two have shown much promise. Campbell Dickson, a sophomore, is quick and an accurate passer. Besides standing a good chance of being a regular member of the lineup, he was a substitute on this year's football squad and is sure of a position on next year's team. He is also a high jumper of ability. Frieda, the lanky junior from Minnesota, has shown himself adept at throwing baskets. He is also a possibility in the lineup near the end of the season.

Bobby Stahr and John Bryan, both veterans, are doing fairly well in their positions. Bryan has recovered from the trouble with his knee cap that took him out of the football lineup and barring a recurrence, will be in the opening games. The first conference game will take place January 7 with Ohio state.

POTEAU.—Because prisoners at the county jail are under quarantine for smallpox, the January term of district court, which was to open Monday, January 2, will be delayed several weeks. The term is expected to be of short duration because only $400 remains of the court fund. The last term cost $7,000.

Wichita River Dam To Open Big Water Project For State

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Jan. 4.—Contracts has been awarded for the construction of a dam across the Wichita river, 60 miles from Wichita Falls, for the largest independent irrigation and municipal water project ever attempted in Texas, and probably one of few in the United States, according to Vernon L. Sullivan, consulting engineer of El Paso.

The irrigation project will be triple in purpose. It will protect this section from floods, supply water for Wichita Falls and other towns and for irrigation of a semi-arid section and will be a potential power plant for that part of the country, according to the engineers.

The lake to be impounded by the dam will have a shore line of 75 miles, Mr. Sullivan said, and will have a maximum depth of 85 feet. Its capacity would fill a 16-inch pipe line 10,000,000,000 feet long, or enough to circle the earth forty times, he said. It is said to be as much as the mean annual flow of the Wichita river.

The construction will require about 7,100,000 cubic yards of earth, 45,000 cubic yards of rock rip rap, 60,000 cubic yards of concrete and about 3,700,000 cubic yards of earth excavation in the canals and laterals, which will total 100 miles in length.

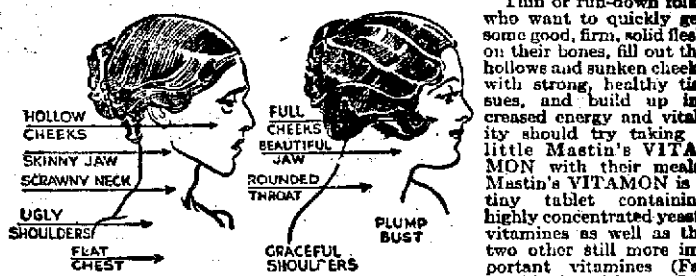

J. A. Kemp, financier of Wichita Falls, is the chief promoter of the project.

HUGO—A lull followed the grand Christmas rush when police court procedure consisted of only two defendants Thursday morning. Judge Walton opened court with the two defendants absent.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

SUPPLY IS SURE.—Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shall thou dwell in the land, and verily shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.—Psalm 37:3,4.

REPUBLICAN CHANCES IN OKLAHOMA.

The following editorial is from the Chickasha Star, owned and edited by J. W. Kayser, the Republican member of the state board of affairs:

"Has the republican party a chance to carry Oklahoma in the coming election?" is the question the editor of the Star put to five leading republicans in the state recently. Three out of the five said no, one was enthusiastic in his belief that it could be carried, the other believed that it could be done with the right kind of a ticket and the right kind of a campaign fund. The three who said no, declared that the present financial depression could not be alleviated in time to permit the state to once more go republican. They declared that the republicans of Oklahoma were going to be blamed for the hard times, whether they had anything to do with bringing them about or not. One of the three said labor was also going to vote against the republican party in the next election. Another of the three declared the republican legislature did nothing that could in any way help to victory next fall.

The one who believed that the state could be carried by the republicans said that the Gore-Ferris schism was still unhealed and that it was likely that a Gore supporter would be nominated, which would give the Ferris crowd a chance to even up for the scores of 1920. He said that the hope of the republican party in Oklahoma was in the division of democracy, and that division was yet open and apparent. The one who said that the right kind of a ticket could win, said that with the women voting in Oklahoma, that the state would never be classed as a democratic state. He declared that men, and not party labels, would rule in Oklahoma in the future, and if good men were nominated and sufficient money was raised to put on a campaign, that the republicans could win in Oklahoma. Which of the five was right?

ENCOURAGING CRIME.

The New York Times suggests that a move to form a Society for the Encouragement and Protection of Crime would cause a hullabaloo, but when officers turn criminals out at the merest excuse, nothing is said. The Times continues its valuable suggestions:

"Only last week, for instance, a gunman killed in a Bronx hold-up had been released on a suspended sentence after pleading guilty to burglary. Availing themselves of the easy privilege of bail, criminals are let loose to ply their trade. Thus the law defeats its object and stimulates recidivism. Thus the suspended sentence, in mistaken kindness to the criminal, is cruel to society and delivers him to prey upon it. High bail should be required in serious offenses. Probation and the suspended sentence should be resorted to more sparingly, and not at all if there are not effectual, ample means of following up every case. Finally, the community should be more zealous to protect itself and less concerned about the 'poor, unfortunate,' much-beslobbered criminal.

"People of common sense and without leaky lachrymal ducts will agree with the Police Commissioner society should see to it by notifying parole boards, probation societies, prison associations and all the uplift groups that they must keep hands off known criminals and leave them to the proper penalties provided by law. Judge Rosalsky of the Court of General Sessions sounds a similar warning to the innocent but too eager crime protectionists:

"Societies originally formed for the purpose of trying to reform criminals now seem to be trying to reform the sentences imposed by Judges.

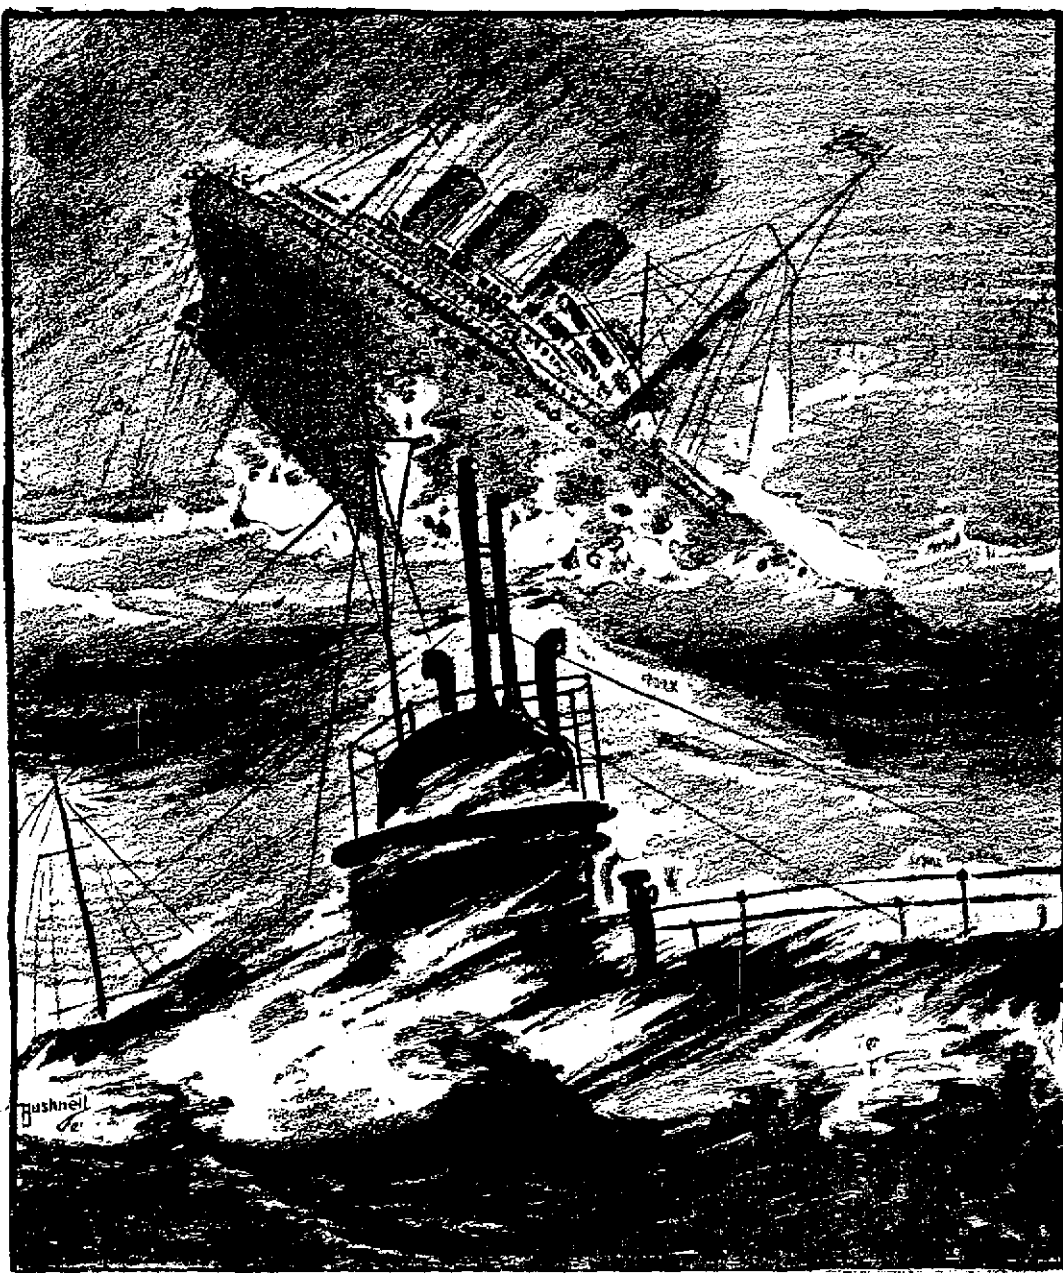

"This excessive tenderness for criminals must be checked. The farce of catching criminals only to let them go and commit more crimes must end."

Ever since Ada became a town the citizens have been planting shade trees. As a result our streets are now greatly enhanced in beauty where there has been sufficient time for the trees to grow to any size. It is to be hoped that this good work will continue. The trees not only add much to the appearance of a home but they also make it far more comfortable during the hot summer months.

REMEMBER THE LUSITANIA!

"I hope and pray that the world may hear the voice of the conference speaking clearly against the continuance of the use of the submarine for the destruction of merchant vessels and innocent lives, those of women, children and non-combatants."—Senator Lodge.

Stable Prices at Hand.

(Fort Worth Record)

Stable prices rather than declining prices will be the keynote of prosperity in 1922. It was fully proved two years ago that it does not take low prices to bring buyers into the market, for when prices are low they may take a further fall and buyers are wary, but when prices are stable or mounting the consumers show a readiness to buy in order to get the present prices which appear to be the best prices.

In a bulletin issued by the National Retail Dry Goods association it is said: "Practically all agree in anticipating more stable business conditions, with prices little changed. Retail merchants have taken, during 1921, the smallest net profits on which they can do business. Any decline in prices must originate with the manufacturers, whose reductions the retailers can pass on to the consumer. The opinion is that the other factor capable of bringing about reduction of commodity prices is lowered freight rates."

Why talk of lower prices? The wholesalers have claimed during the last year that lower prices started with them, and this must be true else the retailer could not have lowered his prices. In fact the accumulated production that was the result of intensified manufacturing together with the necessity of realizing on stocks in order to take care of obligations is what started the downward course of prices, and when prices started downward the public hesitated in its widespread buying in order to get the advantage of lower prices when the bottom had been reached. The manufacturers and wholesalers lowered their prices, the retailers lowered their prices and every inducement was made to bring the wage-earning consumers into the market. Since the bottom of low prices appears to have been reached they have recommenced buying. Do not wait on lower freight rates. There are too many angles to be first considered.

Throughout the South conditions appear to be especially favorable. The demand for cotton, the South's chief money product, not only is increasing steadily, but it appears evident that a much larger demand will prevail within the next six or seven months, consequently cotton prices may be expected to advance. If the southern cotton grower can make a successful fight against the boll worm and boll weevil, and if the cotton acreage be held within reasonable limits, the cotton crop should be sufficiently large to meet normal demands at prices that will give a good profit to the growers without bankrupting the spinners, and yet will not be so large that buyers can afford to keep out of the market anticipating lower prices when they can buy cotton at their own prices and the farmers must pocket the loss.

The prospect in retail trade for 1922, as defined by representative members of the National Retail Dry Goods association doing business in the larger cities of the United States and in many of the smaller centers, is for a twelve-month somewhat better, on the whole, than 1921. Recovery promises to be gradual, it is claimed, but a very large sales volume appears to be expected from early fall until the close of the year.

Dropping a Hot Poker.

(Tulsa World)

If we were permitted to venture an opinion concerning the celebrated Ardmore investigation and prosecution, which we are not, we would say that General Freeling and associates had found the poker a bit too hot for comfort and had dropped it.

The hearings were very abruptly closed. Some of the men charged with murder are out on bond, against some of them the charges have been dismissed, while in still other cases nominal bonds were accepted without any evidence being offered.

At any rate the case, which was fast becoming embarrassing to an ever increasing number of influential people, is ended for the time being. Time is a great healer. The sensation of today dwindles rapidly; the grief of the hour fades as the days pass until even a recollection of it acts as a balm.

Oklahoma will probably hear mighty little more about the Ardmore murder pasture. Next year is captain year and we are going to be busy with our little ambitions. Now if somebody will kindly spring another sensation in some other direction he will render vast assistance.

FREIGHT ENGINE WRECKS; TEXAS SPECIAL INTENDED

(By the Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Jan. 3.—The wreck of the engine of a freight train of the M. K. and T. railroad here last night was declared by the police today to have been a plan to attempt to wreck the Texas special on the same road. Police who investigated the affair declared the rails had been disconnected and spikes pulled from the ties, which allowed the rail to move out of place.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

Here is a story from Stillwater concerning a new variety of cotton: F. F. Ferguson, who originated this, is well known at Ada as he is the man who did the first farm demonstration work in Pontotoc county. That he knows the cotton game was shown by the fact that under his direction a field on P. A. Norris' farm made double the yield of any other field in the vicinity. Here is how the new variety started:

A new variety of cotton, said to have returned in the single year of 1921 a profit of $25,000 over what they usually made to the farmers of Jackson county has been developed through the activity of a boy cotton club member, according to reports received at the Extension division of the Oklahoma A. & M. college here.

The new variety has been named Speer cotton in honor of Walter Speer, who propagated it. It is a long staple variety, but grows in Oklahoma, according to the reports, equally as well as the short staple varieties.

The Speer variety was developed as a result of an experiment which F. F. Ferguson, then district agricultural agent, started in 1914. Ferguson, on a visit to the cotton experiment station in Greenville, Tex., became interested in the Lone Star variety of cotton. He had some shipped into Jackson county and planted it on the farm of C. Speer.

Despite an adverse year, the four acres of Lone Star yielded two bales of fine cotton to the acre and produced some of the largest storm proof bolls even seen in that section of the state, the reports said. It was among this cotton that Walter Speer found a single stalk of such unusual proportions that he reported it to Ben Crawford, then Jackson county agent. Crawford suggested that the seed be planted. The planting was made in one corner of the field and in the season's rush of work that particular corner was neglected so that the experimental stalks became weed choked. Nevertheless, it produced a variety that excelled anything else in the field.

Since that time the Speer staple variety has been developed steadily until it has spread into every section of Jackson county.

Late in the summer of 1918 Walter Speer was stricken with appendicitis and died under an operation.

Commissioner Brents states that the News recently caused him some embarrassment. We ran a write-up of his community in which mention was made of Mr. Brent's place and the job was so well done that shortly afterwards he received two duns. He insists that reading the story in the News caused his creditors to conclude that he was away up in the pictures in money matters.

According to the government report Jackson lead the state in cotton production this year, the total number of bales ginned up to December 20 being 35,177, an increase of some 14,000 bales over the same date of 1920. Bryan county was about the hardest hit, the ginnings amounting to only about one-sixteenth of the year previous.

SAYS NEIGHBORS ARE TAKING IT TOO

"My recovery was so remarkable that a number of my neighbors began taking Tanlac too," said Mrs. Maude Davis, 2704 Hickory St., Dallas, Texas.

"I don't know how long I have been afflicted with catarrh of the head, but the trouble became acute twenty years ago and I just can't describe the sufferings I endured from that time until I got Tanlac. I had fallen off until I weighed only ninety-eight pounds and was so weak I spent half my time in bed. 'I never told my husband and neighbors I was taking Tanlac until my face filled out and my color got so good that everybody began to ask me what I was doing to make such a change. I never remember feeling better than I do right now. I weigh a hundred and twelve pounds, which is more than I ever weighed in my life before.' Tanlac is sold in Ada by M. A. MILLIONS TO BE LOANED VETERANS

McNider. Sketches Great Program of Activity for Legion.

(By the Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 4.—A fund of several million dollars to be loaned without interest and with only a man's good standing in the American Legion as security, to world war veterans who may be in temporary need because of disability, illness and attendant unemployment of other causes, is planned by National Commander Hanford McNider, who today announced the Legion's service program for the coming year.

Mr. McNider would create this fund by a pool of adjusted compensation allotments of veterans who feel they can spare the use of the money which would come to them under the terms of the federal adjusted compensation bill, which the Legion leader asserts certain of passage by the present congress. Mr. McNider said announcement of this revolving fund plan would remove "practically the last vestige of opposition to the compensation measure by providing a way by which every dollar paid out by the government under this act can be used to strengthen the economic fabric of the country by the rehabilitation of needy individuals who are not compensable under existing laws or who, owing to administrative delays, have not received the benefits to which they are entitled."

Provide for Families.
"While perhaps not more than two or three percent of the men who served in the late war will be able to use it in manners which will be of lasting benefit to themselves, their families and their communities will reap the benefits which would accrue to them under the broad and diverse terms of the adjusted compensation bill," continued Mr. McNider, "from this group we mean to obtain a fund of several million dollars to be used for the perpetual benefit of our less fortunate comrades."
"In every community we have veterans who are without employment. The ex-soldier and ex-sailor has suffered more than any other class for the present industrial depression."

Negro Whipping Is Held As a Mockery By Judge Williams

(By the Associated Press)
MUSKOGEE, Jan. 2.—"Especially should the grand jurors take a serious second thought in times like these when men band themselves together in a secret order for the enforcement of law," Judge R. L. Williams declared in his charge of the grand jury in the United States district court today. "The idea of whipping a negro porter of a hotel and the proprietor who permitted such a thing to go on is a travesty."
The court's remarks recalled the alleged kidnapping and subsequent whipping of a negro hotel porter by a masked band of men a short time ago.

"The test of our civilization is at hand, as I knew it would be, and the dignity and sovereignty of the court must be upheld. The enforcement of the law in this court has not fallen down."

Approximately two hundred cases are to be investigated by the grand jury. In a majority of these acts the defendants are charged with violation of the liquor laws.

Irish Plunge Into Sharp Debate Upon Treaty Ratifying

(By the Associated Press)
DUBLIN, Jan. 3.—The Dail Eireann lost no time after reconvening today, following its holiday recess, in plunging again into sharp debates on the Anglo-Irish treaty. It had before it once more an order of the day calling for consideration of both Arthur Griffith's ratification and Eamonn de Valera's alternating proposals. It was generally thought that the debates would end before many days, many members expecting a vote by Thursday night or Friday.

Bitter Feeling Aroused.
DUBLIN, Jan. 3.—Bitter and high feeling were displayed by both sides in the resumption by the Dail Eireann today of debates on the Anglo-Irish treaty. The animosity between the factions seems far more sharply drawn than before the adjournment for the holidays, and was the outstanding feature of the opening session, which began shortly after 11 a. m. and was adjourned at 1:35 p. m. until 3:30 p. m.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK IN EUROPE ASKED BY OWEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The establishment of a European federal reserve bank, providing a gold secured currency and linked inseparably with the American federal reserve system from which it will draw its reserve and receipts, was advocated today by Senator Owen, democrat, Oklahoma, as a basic move towards restoration of stable economic conditions throughout the world.

Mr. Owen at the same time submitted to the senate a bill to amend the federal reserve act, so that establishment of the foreign banks would be possible.

ASSESSORS ASK FOR TAX BOARD IN REFORMATION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 4.—Disapproval of the methods used by the state board of equalization in assessing public service corporations and recommendation for the creation of a tax commission to assume the duties of the board were expressed by county assessors of the state in a resolution adopted Tuesday in their annual convention.

That the members of the state board of equalization do not have the time to "handle properly taxation of public service corporations and make no effort to ascertain that values of such property" was the sense of the convention. The system used was branded as unscientific and unbusinesslike.

The resolution, as adopted came from an outside source, being proposed by Thomas H. Owen, former chief justice of the supreme court. The motion for its adoption was passed with opposition by any of the assessors.

Mrs. W. H. Patterson left this morning for Oklahoma City where she was called by the illness of her father, J. F. Vaughn.

IN SOCIETY

THE NIGHT: A SONNET.

A Sonnet.
It's night again; as yet no friend's amuck,
Bellowing madly in the ears of Pan,
With blatant lung, or brazen, whining fan,
Or deadened roar of giant timbers, struck,
And vibration of beaten steel, or truck
Careening there in hands of crazed Man,
Commence-drunk, searing silence, and tan
With ardent toll life's headlong whirlpools suck.
Shut low those lights! Ethereal tho they be,
Give that black shroud a chance—much beauty's there
And romance new is born within its weight,
Impounding Stygian-hued mystery.
In those deep veils of inky stillness there,
To awe—and make the night inviolate.

MASTER DIRECTOR

Here is the man who made "Way Down East," to be shown soon at the McSwain theatre. Griffith has been hailed as the "greatest of all motion picture directors." The story in "Way Down East" is one of human hearts and is unfolded in a simple, soul-reaching way under the master guidance of an expert hand. This picture will go thundering down the ages just because it is so human. It is being brought to Ada at a big expense and will be shown at the lowest admission price possible.

FUTURE DARK FOR LIQUOR SUSPECTS

Government Uses Harsh Methods Sometimes in Enforcement.

PONCA CITY, Jan. 4.—Consternation has been thrown into the ranks of the bootleggers throughout the country by the new policy of the federal courts in handling prohibition enforcement cases in the courts.

Several men in northern Oklahoma have already experienced the results of such a policy, and they are telling the world that the future does not have an extremely rosy hue.

In the past when bootleggers have appeared in the federal courts (and it has been their first offense) they have been let off on the payment of a comparatively small fine, with perhaps a few months behind the bars. But in addition to such a fine, another one is now being imposed by the revenue department. This is on a failure to take out a license for making spirituous liquor.

It has happened here in Ponca City recently that a bootlegger was assessed a nominal fine in the federal court. In addition to this he was hit for $2,400 for violating the revenue act. This fine remains on record, if he is not able to pay at the time it is assessed, and draws 4 per cent interest until it is paid, and at any time he may accumulate an estate, the amount of the fine and interest is collectable.

A resident of Newkirk, this county, recently went through a similar experience, excepting that his fine was $3,100 and it is understood by the government that he has the money right now with which to pay. A well-to-do man of Garfield county recently convicted of bootlegging, will have to pay $7,000 to revenue officers. He is said to be worth $50 and was caught redhanded—a complete still, mash and several gallons of corn "likker." There is another instance of $9,000 being assessed recently against another citizen and he has the money to pay.

It seems to be the policy of the department to find a man in comparison with his ability to pay. Not even the most hardhearted bootlegger, however, does not like to have a federal judgment hanging over him in case he ever accumulates some property and as a result the ranks of the "leggers are said to be thinning."

OPTIMISM FOR SPORTS LOOM IN GOLF CAMP

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—With the dove of peace looming large the world over, it seems fitting that the approach of the new year should find its reflection in sporting circles and this is no more apparent than in golf. A year ago because of a tendency toward friction between the east and the middle west, it looked for a time as though the threatened break might at last occur, but the difficulties were overcome without serious rupture. Now with the annual meeting of the United States Golf association to be held in Chicago, January 14, approaching, there is no such feeling of unrest; so far as is known at present no vital question has to be thrashed out.

The executive committee's report at the annual meeting will show there are now 201 active and 332 allied clubs making a total of 533, considerably in excess of any previous figures in the association's total. A year ago the total was 476. Clubs now are also in closer touch with affairs than general, due in a measure to the widening of the scope of the executive committee, which embraces practically all the important subsidiary golf bodies in the country. The monthly Green Section Bulletin, issued by the parent organization, is being more widely circulated all the time and is proving of invaluable aid to clubs.

Because of the fact that courses for championships are now selected in advance of the meeting the approaching session will lack the customary speech-making on the part of delegates extolling the merits of this or that club seeking one of the titular events. The 1922 championship distribution is equitable, the amateur going to the Country Club, Brookline, Mass.; the open to the Snookie Golf Club near Chicago and the women's to the Greenbrier Country Club, White Springs, West Va.

COURT GIVES PERMISSION TO ACCEPT DEPOSITS

(By the Associated Press)
BOSTON, Jan. 4.—The supreme court today granted permission to Attorney General Allen to take the deposits of Mrs. Agnes L. Roehl of St. Louis, for use, in connection with the allegations that District Attorney Pelletier conspired with Daniel H. Cohaley, an attorney, and others to frighten her former husband, Albert T. Smith, into paying her $37,500 alimony.

MA' UFACTORER N MED POSSIBLE ! OSTAL GENERAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, who called at the White House today was understood to have mentioned to the president the name of Walter S. Dickey, a Kansas City manufacturer, as a possible successor to Postmaster General Hays, should the latter decide to leave the cabinet.

As matters now stand, it is said by some of the postmaster general's friends, he is not inclined to sever his connections with the administration, despite the unusual salary that would be carried by the position tendered him by a motion picture concern.

Details of the offer made by the motion picture people are to be discussed with them by Mr. Hays on January 14, and he has told his associates in office life here his intention of holding an open mind until after the conference.

Little Girl Chilled for Three Years — Mendenhall's Chill and Fever Tonic Only Cure

Ingraham, Ill., July 31, 1914. J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind. Dear Sir:—Is your chill tonic sold near here? Seven years ago I was in Missouri. My little girl had chilled for over three years. I had doctored her all the time but could not get them broke. We got a bottle of Mendenhall's Chill Tonic from the druggist that broke them and she has not chilled since. Now I have a friend that has a child that has had chills for eighteen months. She can't get them broke and wants this medicine. If I can not get it near here will send to you.—Mrs. Ida Stanley. Users please note Mendenhall's Chill Tonic outsells all other chill tonics combined where introduced. For sale by Gwin & Maye. (adv)

STILLWATER.—L. Elmo of Cushing, won the state checker championship here by defeating J. M. Graves in the finals of the 13th annual checker meet.

Happy After 20 Years

"I must write and tell you I am getting along fine. For 20 years, that is over half of my life, I have spent in poor health and suffering from severe gas in stomach and indigestion. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has entirely restored me. I also know of several others who have taken it for the same trouble and are now well again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by Gwin & Maye and druggists everywhere. (adv)

WOMEN ON FARMS OBJECT TO BEING CALLED "SLAVES"

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Protests by farm women against being called overworked and downtrodden have followed steps taken by the American Farm Bureau Federation for a national organization of women on the farm.

"Farm women in numbers are beginning to realize the harmful effect of this old fashioned publicity," declares Mrs. Izetta Brown of Kingwood, W. Va., a leader in this movement.

"The farm women who have awakened to their own possibilities say quite frankly that they want to start a campaign of optimism about country life. They don't want to be pitied, nor patronized, just understood—and if possible, a little idealized. They would appreciate it for a change."

For the first time the movement is general all over the United States for farm women to join the farm clubs of various sorts, Mrs. Brown reports.

"By working in clubs in various communities the farm women have learned the value of organized effort in improving country life conditions," she said.

"I know of one little community of about 775 families in West Virginia where the school teacher and others had talked for years about piping running water into the school house from a spring just up the hill. The first year after the farm women organized into a club they saw to it that the spring water was piped into the school."

"There is something easy to be done in each community that will improve living and social conditions and each little success is leading the enterprising farm women on to higher ideals."

"They are realizing their power in bringing about better school conditions for others' children and each time anything is done to make the boys and girls happier and more contented, the mothers know they are increasing the chances of holding the children on the farm."

"I think that is the key note of the rebellion against the 'down-trodden and overworked' publicity. The mothers realize that only too often the children get the 'city folks' point of view when it is expressed as depreciating farm life."

TWO FIREMEN KILLED ANSWERING FALSE ALARM
CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Two firemen were killed, one probably fatally injured and several others hurt badly last night when two fire engines collided while responding to a false alarm. For months there has been a friendly rivalry between the men of the two companies as to who would be first to reach a fire, in their joint district.
